New project to boost the north

“The mall will have more than 250 retail stores, restaurants, state-of-the-art cinemas and an ice rink.”

Stephané Bothma

A R12 billion development is set to dramatically change the face of the northern part of the capital.

In its 10 to 15 years development phase, the project is expected to create some 45 000 jobs.

It has been described as the largest private sector commercial development of its kind in Tshwane.

The multi-billion rand Rainbow Junction mixed-use property megaproject, anchored by a new R2.5 billion 94,000sqm super regional shopping centre, will be situated some 6km north of the Pretoria CBD.

The overall Rainbow Junction megaproject is located on a prized 140ha green field site and could become Tshwane's beacon property development and a South African landmark too, said Rosella Dingle, joint CEO of the Rainbow Junction Development Company.

Rainbow Junction's overall commercial uses will include some 165,000sqm for retail, 170,000sqm of prime offices, 120,000sqm for residential projects, 65,000sqm for hotel and conferencing facilities, with the balance catering for general commercial uses and light industry.

It will also have space for educational facilities as well as 37ha of green open public spaces for social and recreational facilities.

“With all municipal, environmental and other approvals in place for the anchor Rainbow Mall development, the project is now gaining serious momentum and we are seeing excellent interest from prospective investors and major property developers who either want to secure a stake in the project or the whole development,” she said.

“Rainbow Junction is an all-new nodal development and is set to include some 670,000sqm of commercial development – making it one of the largest integrated mixed-use developments in the country.”

Commenting on the Rainbow Mall component of the megaproject, Gavin Tagg, CEO of Retail Network Services (RNS) said the mall was set to become a cutting-edge new retail and leisure destination in the capital, with construction scheduled to begin early next year.

Road construction surrounding the mall had already commenced in July 2015.

“The mall will have more than 250 retail stores, restaurants, a state-of-the-art cinema complex and ice rink, as well as “Third Place” attractions.”

“We are speaking to major national and international retailers and other brands to take up space at this new destination.

“Rainbow Mall will have a comprehensive mix including several anchor tenants as part of its retail, entertainment and service offering,” Tagg said.

“The mall will dominate the node as well as offer an experience like no other. We are receiving great interest and feedback from retailers, but are considering our options carefully to bring together the best tenant mix.

Facelift on cards for the north of Pta

“Although the shopping centre is part of a green field development, its great location surrounded by an established market of some two million people and proximity to the CBD means it will attract strong local support as well as visitors from outside the area.”

Rainbow Mall is estimated to cost about R2.5 billion, however, the broader Rainbow Junction mixed-use precinct development is anticipated to be a megaproject of between R10 billion to R12 billion over its 10-15 year development phase.

The development is situated on a strategic site in the centre of Tshwane geographic boundaries and has been identified by the city as catalytic to its “Zone of Choice” new key growth node.

It boasts great visibility and excellent access to key arterial roads and major national highways, as well as strong rail and air connectivity via the Wonderboom Station adjacent to the site and Wonderboom National Airport just 3km away.

Another significant advantage is that Tshwane is planning to build the biggest transit hub of its multi-billion rand A Re Yeng integrated rapid transit system at Rainbow Junction.

Rainbow Junction has a direct link to the M1 Paul Kruger St Ext, which is the main northern arterial route serving the city.

The development also connects to Sefako Makgatho (Zambezi) Drive, which links to the N1 highway, and, will have a direct connection to the N4 Platinum Highway on completion of the K97 link road.

The property is bordered by the Apies River, which gives it 4km of river frontage and another unique development characteristic.

“The overall Rainbow Junction development is a strategic legacy project that has been identified and prioritised by Tshwane as a key project to unlock growth and development in the capital.

“This is not only a major economic development but is anticipated to create around 45 500 jobs over its development phase,” Dingle said.

“We are considering so-called ‘Third Place’ elements, such as an iconic high-rise viewing tower within the development, which will set it apart from other major malls and serve as a beacon attraction to both locals and visitors.”

Tshwane MEC for economic development Subesh Pillay said the metro was confident that the Rainbow Junction megaproject would contribute to the capital city’s objective of building a resilient, liveable and inclusive city through infill development between the outlying northern belt and the city centre, linked to the city’s A Re Yeng rapid transit system.

Water supply under strain

Andrew Ngozo

Rand Water has urged the Tshwane metro and other Gauteng municipalities to use water sparingly. Utility spokesperson Justice Mohale said the heat of late had put Rand Water’s bulk water supply system under strain. Lack of rain had exacerbated the situation.

“The high water demand is projected to cause localised problems in some parts of the cities of Tshwane and Johannesburg and the Ekurhuleni metropolitan municipality,” he said. Rand Water’s bulk supply system was concerning but stable.

“We are in discussions with all our municipal customers on how to jointly manage the situation. All consumers are urged to use water sparingly,” said Mohale. Some areas in the Tshwane metro had been hit by water shortages in recent weeks. On Thursday, the metro imposed water restrictions.

Spokesperson Selby Bokaba said water supply was under severe strain due to increased demand.

“Temporary water restrictions will therefore be implemented across Tshwane with immediate effect on Thursday.”

Under the water restrictions, the following activities were prohibited between 06:00 and 18:00: Watering/irrigating gardens with hose-pipes or sprinkler systems, washing vehicles with hose-pipes, or topping up swimming pools.

Union Buildings turned into a battlefield

Kristian Meijer

A march over rising university fees saw the Union Buildings becoming a battleground between police and protesters.

Thousands of students gathered in Pretoria on Friday for the mass march.

This was preceded by days of mostly peaceful protesting by students at universities throughout the country about the fee issue. But tempers boiled over on Friday.

A band of irate protesters attacked police and journalists, setting fire to the lawn of the Union Buildings and rioting in the city's streets.

Students from University of the Witwatersrand (Wits), University of Pretoria (UP) and Tshwane University of Technology (TUT) all took part in the national #FeesMustFall campaign, demanding that tertiary education fees be scrapped or at least be capped.

On Wednesday and Thursday, UP students peacefully protested on the university campus and in the surrounding streets.

On Friday morning, they were joined by students from Wits and TUT as they marched to the Union Buildings in expectation that President Jacob Zuma would address them and respond to their demands.

The march itself was peaceful, as students sang and danced down Jan Shoba (Duncan) Street.

When the protesters arrived at the Union Buildings and were not immediately addressed by Zuma, some became irate, chanting, "Where is Zuma? Where is Zuma?"

Amid rising tension, a group of protesters tore down the metal fence around the Union Buildings and set fire to portable toilets.

Most of the protesters refused to become violent, instead chanting: "Peaceful protest. Peaceful protest."

This did not deter rioters, who started throwing bricks and rocks at police and nearby journalists.

Police kept calm for hours, pushing the rioters back. Eventually they took more drastic measures, firing stun grenades and rubber bullets to disperse the crowd.

This only worked for a while as the protesters quickly returned and made their way to the steps of the Union Buildings, still expecting Zuma to address them.

While the protesters were waiting, Zuma announced on television that a 0% fee increase for 2016 would be put into effect. He also said long-term issues like free education and racism on campuses needed to be addressed.

The UP has since announced that needy students would not have to pay the registration fee when registering for 2016.

"Students who qualify for the National Student Financial Aid Scheme (NSFAS), students who submit letters from sponsors, and financially needy students who make the necessary financial arrangements with the university, will be allowed to register without paying the initial fee on registration, provided they meet all other criteria," Vice Chancellor Cheryl de la Rey said in a statement.

"In addition, students in financial need who have outstanding residence fees will be considered individually for assistance, should they meet all other residence placement criteria. Also, for students in financial need, the application fee will not be payable during 2016 for the 2017 academic year."

When protesters learnt on Friday that Zuma would not address them, they rioted in streets, setting police cars alight and barricading roads. Those injured in the process were treated by paramedics in the middle of dancing and singing crowds.

The protest continued into the night and eventually died down. Sunnyside police spokesperson Sergeant Asnath Malatsi said six protesters were arrested by police on Friday, but were released on Sunday morning without being charged.

On Saturday, some of the peaceful protesters returned to the Union Buildings to help clean up some of the devastation caused by the rioters.

De la Rey confirmed Zuma's announcement of no increase in tertiary tuition fees next year would put into effect. She said the examination period would also be extended to compensate for time lost during the protest.

"The university appreciates the responsible way in which Tuks students took part in the protest, both on and off campus, and the fact that there was no violence, serious injuries or damage to UP property."

Smart meters lauded

Andrew Ngozo

Contrary to causing harm to residents and businesses, the Tshwane metro prepaid electricity smart meters are a good investment and have reaped many benefits, the metro says.

Earlier this week, Rekord reported that some residents were frustrated at the incessant power cuts which occurred as a result of a failing early warning system or late allocation of money to paid customers.

Metro spokesperson Selby Bokaba said it was only a handful of disgruntled customers who complained.

"A majority of the customers have embraced the new system and provide positive feedback to the metro and its service provider. "Most of them say they find it reliable, user-friendly, informative and the system has assisted us in eradicating many account queries, estimations and billing issues," said Bokaba.

This had resulted in the metro collecting R8 billion via the system as an upfront cash benefit.

Bokaba said nearly 13 000 smart meters had been rolled out to a mix of large power users consisting of industrial, commercial and residential customers.

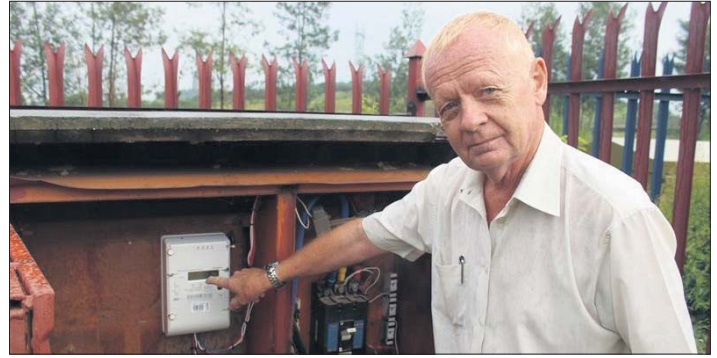

"We paused further roll-out of the smart meters after a court case was brought to challenge the procurement process.

"However, none of the challenges were proven in court and the case was thrown out," he said. This prompted the Tshwane metro to arrange a mutually acceptable termination of the current agreement with service provider, Total Utilities Management Services (TUMS).

"However, we remain committed to an ongoing rollout of the prepaid smart meters across the metro because we have seen the benefits. Hence we will soon be reissuing a tender for similar services.

"This tender will be issued on the open market and anyone can apply," said Bokaba.

The metro rubbished claims that smart meters were defective, with no warning system of depleted funds and resulted in long waits for restoration of power once funds were allocated.

The Tshwane metro has collected nearly R8 billion from the prepaid electricity smart meters which some residents have said have done more harm than good.

Bokaba said all customers were provided with two warning notifications via email or SMS. "This means that the customer has total control of their account at all times.

"There is even a portal which any customer has access to through the internet.

"There, they can set and adjust their own threshold values as well as opt in or out of SMS threshold messages. They can also maintain and edit their contact details when necessary. All customers had ample time to respond to early warning messages urging them to top up in advance before balances reached zero," Bokaba said.

"We would expect customers to react to these warnings and take necessary action to avoid disconnection of service."

Bokaba further urged all customers to use the correct reference numbers when topping up an account.

Search for missing young man still on

Corlia Kruger

Kameeldrift residents are still searching for Charles Nicolaas Duvenhage who went missing two weeks ago.

The 25-year-old lives in eMalaheni (Witbank) with his parents.

His sister, Lucille Duvenhage, told Rekord they were not going to give up the search. His mother, Amanda, could not be reached for comment.

Charles went missing on 8 October in the Kameeldrift area. He was wearing denim shorts, a blue t-shirt and blue sandals when he disappeared.

He is a slender man with brown hair and green eyes. He has a tattoo of a Puma on his left shoulder and a pierced left ear. The Pink Ladies, an organisation dedicated to help find and locate missing children and family members, is also involved in the search.

Dessie Rechner, director at The Pink

Ladies thanked the media: "This [missing reports] really helps to get the word out and help us find missing persons."

She advised families to take pictures of missing people who cannot identify themselves and to send them to Pink Ladies via cellphone.

Anyone with information on Duvenhage's whereabouts can contact the Kameeldrift police on 012-808-8212 or 082-822-6963 or The Pink Ladies on 072-214-7439.

Drie in hof na moorde in die noorde

Corlia Kruger

Drie mans wat moontlik verbind kan word met drie onlangse moorde in die noorde van Pretoria het Maandag in die hof verskyn.

Denford Nawazi (23), Rangarae Phiri (22) en Moses Ndlovu (23) is sowat twee weke gelede aangekeer nadat 'n skoolhoof, Mlandu Mnguni, tydens 'n rooftog in sy huis in Doornpoort doodgeskiet is.

Die drie mans het saam in die Pretoria-Noord-landdroshof verskyn.

Hulle is aanvanklik in hegtenis geneem oor die besit van gesteelde goedere.

Aanklaer Zacharia Mahlatji het in die hof gesê die polisie se ondersoek dui daarop dat die mans verbind kan word met die moord van Mnguni en dié van nog 'n inwoner, Marius Els.

Die twee is dieselfde aand kort na mekaar doodgeskiet en is saam in dieselfde voertuig na die staatslykshuis gebring.

Mnguni, hoof van Matimba Middle School en beheerliggaamvoorsitter van die Alma-skool vir gestremde kinders, is laataand vermoor tydens 'n gewapende rooftog.

Els is kort daarna in sy woning in Bon Accord doodgeskiet toe die rowers weer toeslaan.

Mahlatji het gesê daar is 'n moontlikheid dat die mans ook met 'n onlangse aanval by Roodeplaatdam verbind kan word.

Eugene Smit is verlede week dood toe hy by 'n hengeloord in die maag geskiet is.

Hy het die naweek saam met sy vrou en drie kinders langs die dam deurgebring.

Sy gesin het ongedeerd daarvan afgekóm.

Smit was vir twee weke in 'n kritieke toestand waarna hy aan sy wonde beswyk het.

Mahlatji het in die hof gesê dat een van die aangeklaagdes reeds deur vingerafdrukke verbind is met vorige huisbrake.

Die drie kan dalk met nog rooftogte in die noorde verbind word, het hy gesê.

Hulle bly in aanhouding en sal in November weer terug in die hof wees vir borgeaansoek.

Eugene Smit.

Smart ID card fraud

Thabang Kuaho

The department of home affairs has ridiculed allegations of fraud in the issuing of smart ID cards.

Spokesperson Mayihlome Tshwete said the department's Gauteng manager, Albert Matsaung, had clarified what he meant when he told a parliamentary committee meeting that Minister Malusi Gigaba had intentionally misled the country by implying that no fraud had been detected.

"In his presentation, Matsaung clarified the fraud he had alluded to had occurred during applications for the green barcoded identity documents and not during applications for smart ID cards," he said.

Tshwete said the smart card office confirmed and verified information prior to issuing the smart ID.

"This would apply, in particular, to cases in which the applicant is suspected to be a non-South African."

"This has been implemented to clean up the national population register (NPR) because previously non-citizens found their way into the system [register] and acquired green barcoded IDs fraudulently."

He said the department had identified offices including Byron's Place in Pretoria in which fraudulently acquired green barcoded IDs had been used to apply for smart ID cards.

"Due to the tightened security which includes the submission of biometrics to collect [an ID], applicants failed to collect their documents when requested to present themselves at the office where they had made their application," said Tshwete.

Tshwete said the department maintained that ID cards were the best solution to problems encountered previously.

"The Smart ID card, through its secured processes, protected the integrity of the NPR," he said.

Colouring their day bright.

Excitement for Color Run is building up

Danielle Garrett

We are only days away from the exciting Color Run taking place at the Centurion Rugby Club on Saturday.

This is a 5km untimed walk or run in which participants are doused with colour-powder at the end of each kilometre.

So get your running shoes ready for one of the most anticipated events of the year.

The streets of Centurion will be filled with colour when runners from across the city take part in Pretoria's biggest, boldest and most colourful race on 31 October.

And if you have not purchased your tickets to partake yet, now is the time to do so. The run is suitable for all ages and abilities. Whether you run, walk or push a pram, it is guaranteed fun for the whole family. Tickets for the color run cost R250 per person and R100 for students. There is no admission fee for children under the age of 10. Visit www.thecolorrun.co.za for more information on the race.

Groente 'vir die siel'

Corlia Kruger

Dit het begin by een vrou se droom om 'n verskil te maak; nou kan 'n gemeenskap baat vind by 'n klein, maar doeltreffende, groentetuin.

'n Gemeenskapstuin in Lucas Meyerstraat, Theresapark was die inspirasie van inwoner Alta van Huyssteen.

Dié tuin buite 'n erf net om die hoek van Bokmakierie- en Lucas Meyerstraat pryk met rye heerlike vars groente – vir enigiene en almal se gebruik.

“Ek het 'n paar jaar gelede gedink wat kan ek as inwoner doen om 'n verskil in ons omgewing te maak, en toe het die idee van 'n groentetuin by my opgekom,” vertel Van Huyssteen.

Met die toestemming van Des en Johan van Heerden, is die grond buite hul erf omgedolwe en die groente geplant. Boontjies, spinasie, wortels, beet, graasuijties en nog meer groei saam met 'n paar vars kruie.

Alta van Huyssteen pluk 'n kraakvars steeltjie spinasie.

Van Huyssteen sê die idee van die tuin is sodat almal in die gemeenskap gratis en verniet groente kan pluk. “Dit is nou nie om te misbruik nie, maar enigiene mag dit wat hier groei gebruik.”

Van Huyssteen sê sy het reeds goeie terugvoer van inwoners en verbygangers gekry.

“Heelwat inwoners in die straat het ook begin help met die tuin. Bure skenk saad en gee goeie raad hoe om so 'n groentetuin te help floreer,” sê Van Huyssteen.

“Ek wil dankie sê aan almal wat met die projek help. Linda en Jan Breedt wat pampoene oorkant die straat geplant het, Des en Johan vir die gebruik van die grond buite hul erf, my man Francois en ook Elijah 'Kleintjie' wat so trots op sy werk is om die tuin mooi te maak.”

Van Huyssteen vra dat meer inwoners in die straat en omgewing betrokke raak en meer tuine soos dié help vestig.

Die 'groente vir die gemeenskap'-projek is groente vir die siel.

Hare af vir Suné.

Nog hare waai vir Suné

Corlia Kruger

'n Groep vrywilligers van Netcare 911 en ondersteuners van 'n kankerlyertjie laat waai hulle hare.

Suné Kloppers (4) is verlede jaar met nierkanker gediagnoseer. Binne 'n jaar het die aggressiewe kanker na beide longe en haar oorblywende nier versprei, nadat haar linkernier verwyder is. Na nog twee chemoterapie-sessies gaan behandeling gestaak word.

“Daar is altyd hoop,” sê ma Susan vasbeslote. Alternatiewe behandeling in Kaapstad is 'n opsie wat die familie oorweeg na chemoterapie.

Amazing Angels eksklusiewe dagsorg, waar Suné en haar tweeling-sussie Sunel 'n tweede familie gevind het, staan vierkantig agter die gesin.

Die hoof van hierdie dagsorg, Mickey Gascoyne, het saam met ander onderwysers hulle hare afgeskeer ter ondersteuning van Suné.

“Ek het haar (Suné) 'n belofte gemaak om net soos sy te lyk,” het Gascoyne gesê voor sy weke gelede haar hare afgeskeer het.

Aangevuur deur die initiatief, en die dapper klein engeltjie se stryd teen kanker, het Netcare 911-personeel ook hulle hare Vrydagmiddag laat waai.

Familie en dagsorg bedank die ambulansdienste-span en almal wat Suné op hierdie manier ondersteun.

Die publiek word uitgenooi na 'n pret-dag vir Suné wat op Sondag, 29 November by Monkey Tricks plaasvind - 3e Straat 739, Montana.

Glitz and glamour for the best of Pretoria

After months of suspense, results are finally out for Best of Pretoria readers' choice awards.

The who's who of Pretoria gathered at Weylands in Brooklyn Mall to celebrate and party the night away.

A-listers, including Rian van Heerden, Dewald Jordaan and master of ceremonies Bongi, rubbed shoulders with the Best of Pretoria winners and clinked a glass of champagne on their success.

Tens of thousands of votes have proved that the Best of Pretoria readers' choice awards are more popular with Rekord readers than ever before.

This is an annual reader survey aimed at celebrating, recognising and rewarding a wide variety of local excellence.

In its third year, local businesses, service providers and products a cut above the rest were singled out by Rekord readers by voting for their favourites in six main categories.

"The excitement and buzz created by the awards among businesses never cease to amaze me," said Rekord group editor Sunette Visser.

"The pride of winners displaying their certificates in their places of business and incorporating their winning status in their advertising campaigns is astonishing."

Christo Krugel and Andrew McKenna from Silverlakes Golf Estate.

Philip and Tracey Nicols from Fournos Bakery.

Nicole Rimbault, Bruce Sturgeon and Karen Geurtse.

Esna Colyn from Placecol.

Pretoria streets go UN blue

Stephen Selaluke

South Africa took part in global commemorations this weekend to celebrate the 70th anniversary of the United Nations (UN).

Saturday, 24 October was UN day, and on Sunday pupils from Tshwane schools joined UN staff and Pretoria residents dressed in the UN blue to commemorate the day.

The crowd went on a peaceful walk from the UN offices to the Pretoria Technical High School where a variety of activities were scheduled.

These included song and dance, poem reading and speeches.

Speaking on behalf of the UN, Dr Esther Muia paid tribute to support and cooperation between the global body and the SA government. She also lauded the achievements of the SA government in attaining some millennium development goals.

She said the occasion was an important time to reflect on what the world had attained under the UN umbrella in the last 70 years, take stock of lessons learned and forge ahead with great purpose.

To mark the day, more than 150 iconic monuments, buildings, museums, bridges and other landmarks in more than 45 countries around the world were lit up blue, the official colour of the United Nations.

These include famous landmarks such as Australia's Sydney opera house, the great pyramids of Giza in Egypt, the statue of Christ the Redeemer in Rio de Janeiro, the Empire State Building in New York and Russia's Hermitage museum.

"I am grateful our member states are showing such strong enthusiasm in marking 70 years of UN support for peace, development and human rights," said UN Secretary General Ban Ki-moon. "By turning the world UN blue for a day, we can light the way to a better tomorrow."

Pretoria streets painted in blue to mark the 70th anniversary of UN Day.

Whatever you do, you must keep moving on Personally I love to be around people or listen to people who motivate and encourage me. We think of certain things as impossible; well, I just put an 'H' in front of 'impossible' and it becomes 'Himpossible'!

In 2 Corinthians 2:14 we read, "Now thanks be to God who always leads us in triumph in Christ..." Numbers 23:19 says, "God is not a man that He should lie; He doesn't change His mind like humans do. Has He ever promised, without doing what He said?" (The Living Bible)

Regardless of what I experience or go through in life, in Christ I will always be triumphant. If I truly believe what God says, then He says "because of your faith it will happen!"

Think of Thomas Edison, the inventor who created the incandescent light bulb. He failed more than 10 000 times, yet he said, "Our greatest weakness lies in giving up. The most certain way to succeed is always to try just one more time." He did not allow himself to get discouraged.

Think of Winston Churchill who rallied the British people during World War II. He led his country from the brink of defeat to victory. Imagine how much faith he had in himself when he was on the point of failure.

Yet he was the one who said,

“If you can't figure out your purpose, figure out your passion. Your passion will lead you right into your purpose.”

“Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts.”

Think of Martin Luther King Jr who said, "If you can't fly then run, if you can't run then walk, if you can't walk then crawl, but whatever you do, you have to keep moving forward."

Faith

Nevil Norden

Think of Bishop TD Jakes who said, "If you can't figure out your purpose, figure out your passion. Your passion will lead you right into your purpose."

Lamentations 3:21-23 says, "Yet there is one ray of hope; His compassion never ends. It is only the Lord's mercies that have kept us from complete destruction. Great is His faithfulness; His loving kindness begins afresh each day." (The Living Bible)

My challenge to you is: don't let anyone's ignorance, negativity, criticism, faultfinding or judgement stop you from being the great person God intended you to be! Psalm 35:27 says, "Let the Lord be magnified, who delights and takes pleasure in the prosperity of His servant."

Die leerlinge was geklee in die tradisionele drag of kleure van 25 verskillende lande

Die Joolkoning en -koningin word aangewys.

Vlotte in strate

Meer as 1 200 leerlinge het onlangs met groot gejuig die strate van Wonderboom-Suid ingevaar tot groot vermaak en verbasing van die inwoners.

As deel van die 2015 Winnie-joolprojek moes die 5 grade (8-12) in die voorafgaande drie weke elk 'n vlot uit herwinbare materiaal bou.

Die tema was 'Om die wêreld' en elke vlot het 'n kontinent uitgebeeld. Die leerlinge was geklee in die tradisionele drag of kleure van 25 verskillende lande en het in 'n parade saam met hul eie graad se vlot gestap. Saam met die vlotparade het die leerlinge geld ingesamel vir die skool se eie fonds.

'n Joolkoning en -koningin is aangewys voordat 'n buitelug-konsert met Bobby van Jaarsveld afgeskop het.

Vooraf en tydens die konsert het die leerlinge, ouers en onderwysers van voogklasse elk 'n kosstalletjie behartig waar tradisionele kosse van 'n toegewysde land verkoop is.

Danksy goeie samewerking en ondersteuning was die hele dag baie geslaagd en kan dalk net 'n jaarlikse instelling word.

Leerlinge stap deur die strate van Pretoria.

Bobby van Jaarsveld het by die buitelugkonsert opgetree.

See what this chef plans

If you love the art of haute cuisine and are intrigued by the personal dramas of top-rated chefs, then Burnt is the movie for you.

It is now showing at Nu Metro Woodlands and Menlyn Park in Pretoria.

Chef Adam Jones (Bradley Cooper) had it all – and lost it. A two-star Michelin rock star with the bad habits to match, the former enfant terrible of the Paris restaurant scene did everything differently every time out, and only ever cared about the thrill of creating explosions of taste. To land his own kitchen and that third elusive Michelin star though, he would need the best of the best on his side, including the beautiful Helene (Sienna Miller).

This remarkably funny and emotional story is about the love of food, the love between two people, and the power of second chances.

Stand a chance to win two double tickets to see Burnt in movie theatres. To enter the competition, fill out the application form on Rekord's websites.

REKORD PROPERTY

There is value for money in Amanzimtoti

Now is the time to invest in the iconic holiday town of Amanzimtoti with its moderate climate, pristine beaches and proximity to the CBD of Durban.

So says Michelle Dunnett, owner of leading local agency Harcourts Sapphire Coast. Dunnett notes: "Home prices here are literally 50% less than for comparable properties along the coast to the north of Durban, and both investors and holiday-home buyers are catching on fast. "There was a time a few years ago, when sales were really not swift and a unit could stay on the market for six months or more, but these days we can get three offers in one day for a well-priced apartment.

"We have also had a slew of enquiries from upcountry buyers in recent weeks, and are preparing for a bumper summer holiday season."

She says the limited supply of residential accommodation and the scarcity of development land will not only help to retain Amanzimtoti's holiday village ambience, but are also likely to put upward pressure on prices before long.

"There is already a shortage of stock in the R1.2 million to R1.5 million price bracket, and reasonably priced homes are selling within a day of being listed.

"However, Amanzimtoti still offers really excellent value for money.

"For buy-to-let investors, the advantages of purchasing here rather than along the rapidly urbanising North Coast are that it is still possible to find two-bedroom, one-bathroom flats for around R600 000 where your tenant's rent will cover a major portion of your bond repayments."

In addition the town is located on the N2 national highway, only 25 kilometres from the Durban CBD and 58 kilometres from the King Shaka International Airport.

Ways to make your house hunting more fun

Buyers have many tough decisions to make when shopping for a new home, but the daunting task can be made much easier.

This could be done by trying to mentally 'move into' a property for a few minutes. Not only to visualise where your furniture and belongings would go, but to imagine how you and your family would live there.

For example, says Chas Everitt International property group managing director Berry Everitt, you may love the view from a cliff-top house – but your enthusiasm might wane if you think about always having to carry the groceries up several flights of stairs.

"And if you picture your ideal family home, would the outdoor entertainment area really lead straight off the TV-room? Might it suit you better if it led off the dining room or kitchen so you could still enjoy a week-end watching sport while your children had their friends around for a pool party?"

The main question to ask is whether the floor plan really fits your lifestyle. If the answer is in the affirmative, you'll be well on the way to finding the right home.

"Conversely, you should never choose a home that will be awkward for your family to live in – even if it has many attractive features – because a bad 'match' usually leads very soon to another round of house-hunting and moving, which can be very expensive."

Writing in the Property Signpost newsletter, Everitt says there is, of course, no absolute right and wrong.

"The floor plan that puts one buyer off will suit another very well. A couple with young children will probably want their bedroom within earshot of the children's rooms, while others may really want a 'buffer zone' between them and their teenagers' sound systems."

Similarly, he says, a compact kitchen may well appeal to a jet-set young executive who spends a lot of time travelling and eats out frequently, but will probably be impractical for those used to entertaining their family and friends at home.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

CONDITIONS FOR ACCEPTANCE OF ADVERTISING: Rekord reserves the right to withhold or cancel any advertisement offered. NB: Rekord accepts responsibility for only one faulty insertion. Advertisers are advised to check their advertisements for possible errors on the first day of publication. NO free insertion will be given on the grounds of small typographical errors that do not derogate from the advertisement. NB: Cancellation of a placement order must meet the following conditions to be effective: • The cancellation must be in writing • It must reach the Advertising office of Capital Media at least 3 (three) days prior to the printing date • A cancellation number must be obtained from Capital Media • Any telephonic correspondence must be confirmed in writing to be valid • Capital Media may cancel an advertising agreement if the advertiser fails to pay his/her account within the agreed time.

Capital Media (Pty) Ltd renders a service to our clients to advertise their products and services. However, we cannot be held accountable for any misleading claims or damages that result from the use of said advertised products and services.

Readers should therefore be cautious in responding to any advertisements, in particular financial and business related opportunities, unless a thorough investigation has been conducted into the business practices of the advertiser concerned.

Rekord experiences many problems with clients requesting us to comply within any possible way, to give preference to their advertisements versus that of other clients. This leads to advertisements starting with A1, Attention, or 000. It makes no sense to the reader and prevents them from making logical conclusions as to what the content of the advertisements is about. It spoils the presentation of our classified advertisements and also confuses the reader, who wants to see at a glance what an advertisement is about and make a decision regarding his needs. We believe that our capable representatives can help with good advice in presenting your advertisement with original and fresh ideas.

Venske on to SA golf champs

Koos Venter
Edwin Venske, an amateur golfer from Centurion, shot his way to glory at the recent Durban regional qualifier in the 21st World Amateur Golfers Championship and secured his place in the SA national final. Crisp blue skies, coupled with fierce competition, water hazards and taxing bunkers set the scene at the Cotswold Downs golf course. Edwin was able to put on a most valiant effort and claim a commendable second place in the 21-25 handicap group, scoring 76 nett. With the second round of the regional qualifiers now complete, the tempo is increasing as excitement builds for the SA National Final that will be played at Selborne Hotel, Spa & Golf Estate on the KZN south coast from 3 – 5 November. This promises to be an exhilarating two-day challenge as the regional qualifiers from Johannesburg, Cape Town and Durban come together in an all-out battle for ultimate glory. The competition will be fierce as each golfer will be looking to claim that coveted Team SA blazer and win an all-expense paid trip of a lifetime to the 21st World Final in Turkey next month.

“The Durban regional qualifier exceeded expectations as golfers arrived on the day poised and ready for an exciting elimination process for this year’s Team South Africa selection,” said Arthur Mzimela of world golf events SA and Team SA captain. “This is a fantastic opportunity for amateur golfers to showcase their talent in the world’s largest amateur golf tournament. We are looking forward to the SA national final to see who will be representing South Africa as the defending champions at the 21st world final in Turkey from 27 November to 5 December.”

Nuwe bergfietswedren in 2016

Bergfietsgeesdriftiges kan vroeg 2016 begin uitsien na 'n opwindende vasbyt-wedren in Pretoria. Dié wedren sal bekendstaan as die Monument-uithouren. Buiten die uitstekende geleentheid om hulself vir 2016 se nasionale en internasionale byeenkomst voor te berei, beloop die prysgeld van hierdie nuwe wedren soveel as R500 000 in totaal. Volgens die organiseerder, Pierre Nel, maak hierdie prysgeld die Monument-uithouren die top randper-kilometer wedren in die land. Nog 'n groot trekpleister vir die wedren is dat die beroemde ryer, Christoph Sauser van Switserland, volgende jaar 'n deelnemer sal wees wat plaaslike deelnemers die geleentheid bied om hul vaardigheid en uithouvermoë teen die wêreld se bergfietskampioen.

Nel sê dié uithouren, wat van 11 tot 13 Februarie by die Voortrekkermonument plaasvind, is veral op ervare jaers gemik wat ekstreme uitdagings soek of hulself vir die Olimpiese bergfiets dissipline (XCO) seisoen wil voorberei. Na afloop van die Monument MTB Festival vind die tweede nasionale XCO wedren reeds plaas op 27 Februarie en skaars drie weke later jaag die wiele oor die klippe in die Cape Epic. Die Monument-uithouren is veral 'n ideale soort kleedrepetisie vir beide die XCO-seisoen en Cape Epic, meen Nel. Hy sê hoewel XCM plaaslik meer gewild is as XCO, is laagse- noemde die enigste Olimpiese dissipline en verwelkom jaers dit met die oog op groter geleenthede soos dié, waar die twee dissiplines gekombineer word. Dit maak die Monument MTB Festival uniek, verduidelik Nel. “Ons kombineer XCO (wat in Christoph Sauser, die wêreld se bergfietskampioen van Switserland, sal volgende jaar een van die deelnemers aan die Monument-uithouwedren wees. rondtes gejaag word) met XCM (heen-en-terug) met behoud van elk se unieke uitdagings. Voeg nou boonop die vyf tot ses ure van die rug-aan-rug ekstreme uithou oor die twee dae by en jy skep die resep vir 'n unieke uitdaging. Die tydskerekening vir die byeenkoms is ook perfek. Beide XCO- en XCM-jaers gaan daarby baatvind,” het Nel gesê. Inskrywings het 21 Oktober geopen om vir die volgende kategorieë van die Monument MTB Festival in te skryf:

- * Juniors (manlike deelnemers, 17 en 18 jaar) vir die verkorte wedren;
 - * Elite (mans, dames, en gemengde spanne bestaande uit 'n man en vrou tussen 19 en 29);
 - * Meester (mans, dames, en gemengde spanne, van wie almal ouer as 29 jaar is).
- Spanne wat klaarmaak, kry almal medaljes, maar net die eerste drie spanne in elke kategorie wen prysgeld. Vir meer inligting, kontak Marlene by marlene@strategicpr.co.za of 083-228-6426.

Wenda Nel coaches keen track stars at UP

The quest to run ever-faster times in an effort to become one of the best 400 hurdles athletes in the world is not Wenda Nel's only passion.

To help others is equally important to her. It was not surprising, therefore, that the 400-hurdles finalist at this year's World Championships in Beijing immediately agreed when she was asked to become involved with a few young athletes with Down Syndrome who are preparing to compete at the SASA-II Open Games in Secunda.

This will be one of the last opportunities for these athletes to try to qualify for the World Championships for persons with Down Syndrome that will be presented in Bloemfontein at the end of November.

The Tuks/hpc athlete will help to improve the focus and coordination of these young athletes so that they will be better able to train and compete.

Judging by the reaction of Minette Swart (Pathways), Pieter Starke (Pathways) and Siphure Monama (Via Nova), Nel certainly has the knack to relate to these athletes. Coincidentally, South Africa's National Down Syndrome day is also celebrated in October.

The athletes were smiling happily while Nel put them through exercises with two balls to help them improve their eye-hand and eye-foot coordination at the LC de Villiers stadium. To intensify their ability to focus, Nel had them do some fine motor activity exercises combined with balance.

To top it off, Nel surprised them with a challenge to run a 50 metres dash. As an extra incentive she lined up some gifts on the finishing line. "With the 50 metre race I wanted the athletes to realise that you don't necessarily have to win to be considered a champion. Every time you participate in a race and run to the best of your ability you are a winner. That is why each athlete received a prize." Asked why she decided to become involved with helping these athletes with Down Syndrome, Nel said that to be involved in sports is a real passion for her.

"As far as I am concerned everybody, no matter who, deserves an opportunity to experience the joy of competing in sports.

"That is what I am planning to do when I work with these athletes.

"I must admit that it is a mutual beneficial relationship because they certainly also inspire me." Nel, who is qualified dietician, is working out some dietary guidelines for athletes who will be competing at the World Championships. Tessa van Heerden, marketing and communication manager of the SA Sports Association for the intellectually impaired, emphasised the importance of regular exercise for children with Down Syndrome.

Because most of them have a low muscle tone they need to move and be active to support their bodies.

"The more they move the more fluent their movements will become. Regular exercise is also an intellectual stimulation and it helps the kids to learn better," Van Heerden explained.

Basson back after nasty spider bite

Although being bitten by a Hungarian spider can be a painful experience, the results do not necessarily have to be all bad.

Don't be surprised if Basson Engelbrecht should be smiling and raring to go when he lines up to compete in the Tongyeong Triathlon World Cup in South Korea this week.

In a weird way it can be said that a spider has brought about this new and positive approach in Engelbrecht.

"Sometimes nearly losing something about which you are passionate can be a good thing because when you fear that you are going to lose it you suddenly realise how much it means to you," he explained.

"Being bitten by a spider meant that I was out of action for about eight weeks. I was not able to compete at the World Championships in Chicago as well as in a few other major events.

"This setback meant that I had a lot of time to think. I came to the shocking conclusion that if I should be unable to compete and train as a triathlete there would be absolutely nothing left for me," the Tuks/hpc athlete said.

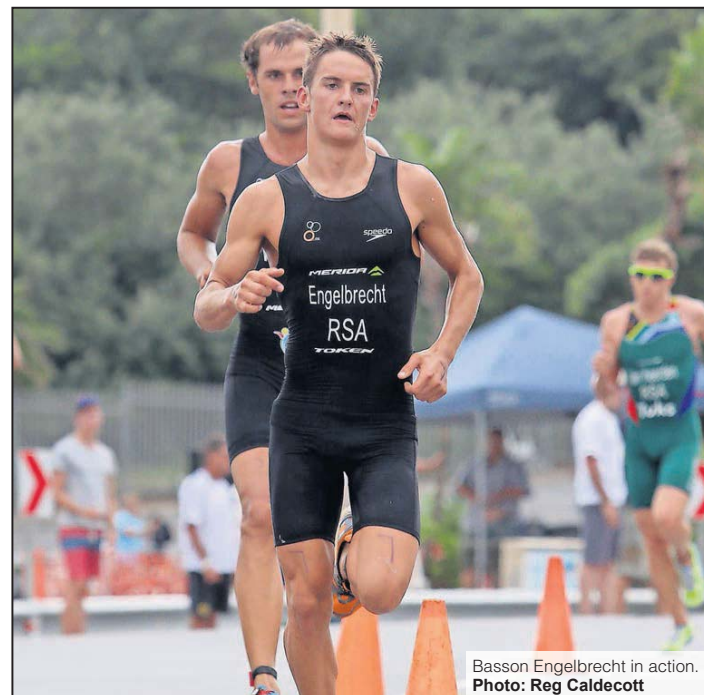

"As professional athletes we are inclined to take many things for granted. Sometimes, during training, you tend to merely go through the motions. You run because you have to run and swim because you have to swim. Not being able to train made me realise how much I enjoyed what I was doing and how privileged I actually was.

"It also made me appreciate my God-given talents. I can honestly say that I am now hungrier than ever to succeed."

Engelbrecht's poisonous setback occurred in August while he was preparing for the Tiszaujvaros World Cup in Hungary.

The Tuks/hpc athlete said he went for a training run in the veld a few days before the event. "At some stage I stopped to do some stretching exercises. When I looked down I noticed that my legs were covered with spider webs but I did not think much about it. When I got back to where I stayed I saw a small bite mark.

"The next day I went for a swim in a nearby lake which seems to have been a huge mistake. Apparently some bacteria got into the small wound and made my ankle swell to twice its normal size. I could barely walk and went to see a doctor."

He said it was a strange experience because the doctor could not speak English and he had to get somebody to translate.

"I noticed that the doctor looked worried and made all sorts of gestures with his hands while he was explaining to me what was wrong but all the translator had to say was that I was going to be 'OK'.

"Not understanding what the doctor said I went ahead and raced, which turned out to be a huge mistake."

Young Pta tennis star on the rise

South African junior tennis player Siphon Montsi of Pretoria has been invited to join the International Tennis Federation (ITF) and the Grand Slam Development Fund (GSDF) touring team to East Africa.

The team will compete in a series of tournaments from 20 November to 05 December in Nairobi, Kenya. The team is part of the ITF development programme, which is financed by the ITF and the GSDF who will fund Montsi's travel expenses. Gavin Crookes, president and acting CEO of Tennis SA, congratulated Montsi for his achievement.

Engelbrecht said with quite a good start in the swim he was second when they reached the first buoy, but from then on things started to go the other way.

"Within a matter of seconds I was almost last. I started cycling but on the second lap I was a totally spent force and just toppled over," he said.

The 20-year-old Engelbrecht's best results so far this year were winning the Le Morne ATU Sprint Triathlon African Cup race and finishing third in the Sharm El Sheikh ATU Triathlon African and Pan Arab Championships.

Titans need to up their one-day game results

Koos Venter

Halfway through the Momentum one-day series, the Titans are currently in a disappointing fourth place in the log, after mixed results in their games last week.

Albie Morkel and his teammates could only win two games in the first phase of the competition. This tournament is now interrupted until the end of January 2016 and other cricket action will meanwhile take place.

There are, among other things, the local T20 series and the Ram Slam T20 Cricket Challenge, which begins this weekend.

The Titans' very good win by 7 wickets over the Dolphins last Wednesday gave hope to their fans that they had eventually found their rhythm.

The young Graeme van Buuren's 84 runs from 71 balls was a notable highlight and it reaffirmed the men from Centurion's depth.

Sunday, in Kimberley, the Knights again uncovered the Titans as a team who does not like to bat first.

Werner Coetsee, captain of the Knights, won the toss and sent the Titans to bat first. Only Heino Kuhn (55), who is once again in brilliant form, scored more than 50 runs.

Morkel's 40 off 29 balls at the end of the innings was also a good attempt to make the score look respectable.

The Knights, however, managed to bowl them all out in the 49th over for only 242 runs. This was never enough and there was great pressure on the Titans bowlers to try and defend this total.

Morkel used seven bowlers to perform the task, but ultimately it was impossible. However, they tried hard and except for Junior Dala and Rowan Richards all the bowlers managed to concede less than six runs per over.

Although the Knights' batsmen had to work hard for the victory, they could eventually pass the Titans' total in the 48th over.

As defending champions the Titans' fans obviously expect much more of them than the mediocre performance in the first half of this series.

“As defending champions the Titans' fans obviously expect much more of them than the mediocre performance in the first half of this series.”

Bakkies praat oor sy loopbaan

Koos Venter

Die naam Bakkies Botha is in Suid-Afrika byna net so bekend as enige top handelsnaam, en dié rugbylegende word selfs soms met die filmster Chuck Norris vergelyk in die bekende 'supemens'-grappies.

Sowat 1 000 gaste by Hoërskool Garsfontein se jaarlikse rugby-ontbyt is egter verlede week aangenaam verras oor dié groot man se menslikheid, sterk waardes en nederigheid toe hy as eregas opgetree het.

Hoewel Botha nie die tradisionele rol van gasspreker vervul het nie, het die gaste tog aan sy lippe gehang toe hy as hoogtepunt van die ontbyt saam met die bekende rugby-kommentator, John van Rensburg, aan 'n vraag-en-antwoordsessie deelgeneem het.

Botha het die gehoor sommer vroeg verbaas toe hy sy weersin uitgespreek het in ouers wat te veel druk op hul kinders plaas om in sport te presteer.

Hy het tot vermaak van sy gehoor sy lewensverhaal opgesom as dié van 'n doodgewone voorstedelike seun wat nie té vroeg gedruk is om groot drome te droom nie.

Botha het vertel dat hy en sy jonger broer, soos baie Suid-Afrikaanse seuns, baie komterend was. Hyself het egter nooit groot drome van rugbyglorie gehad nie.

In sy voorlaaste jaar op skool het hy nog vir die tweede- en derdespan van HTS Middelburg gespeel en eers toe hulle na Vereniging verhuis het, het Botha begin uitstaan en die eerstespan gehaal. Hy het vertel dat hy toe eers beseft het dat hy werklik genoeg talent het om iets in rugby te bereik, nadat die Valke destyds aan hom 'n professionele kontrak aangebied het.

Botha het nie veel uitgebrei oor die eerste deel van sy loopbaan nie, maar wel gemaklik gesels oor sy tyd in Frankryk. Hier het hy sy gehoor gefassineer met sy eerlike gesprek oor sy liefde vir sy gesin en sy verantwoordelikheid as eggenoot en pa.

Hy het onthul dat sy gesin nie saam met hom na Frankryk verhuis het ná die wêreldbekertoernooi van 2011 nie. Hy was vir vier jaar alleen in die vreemde. Botha het vertel hoe hy die verlange na Suid-Afrika hanteer het deur soveel as moontlik saam met die Suid-Afrikaners te braai.

Hy het ook die storie bevestig dat hy, saam met die Bloemfonteiner Juan Smith, soms tot 40kg boerewors per week gemaak het. Die Franse en Aussies wat saam met hulle vir Toulon in die suide van Frankryk gespeel het, het later self versot geraak op dié Suid-Afrikaanse vleisprodukt.

Oor die stigma as 'n 'omstredende' speler is Botha nie spraaksam nie. Al wat hy hieroor gesê het, is dat hy nou weet dat hy hom beter moes betuel het teenoor teenstanders wat hom uitgelok het. "Ongeukkig kan ek onreg nie verdra nie en daar was altyd een of ander onreg wat aanleiding gegee het tot my optrede, soos die kopstamp-vooral met Jimmy Cowan. Hy het my aan die trui terugghou sodat ek nie kon verdedig nie..." het Botha gesê. Hy het die gehoor ook verbaas deur openlik oor rugbyspelers se geldsake te praat, en onthul dat hy Rugbylegende Bakkies Botha (regs) en die bekende rugbykommentator John van Rensburg gesels tydens 'n vraag-en-antwoord sessie by die Hoërskool Garsfontein se rugby-ontbyt wat verlede week aangebied is.

die afgelepe tyd aanbiedings ontvang het om nog 'n seisoen of twee te speel.

"Dan dink 'n mens by jouself... 'hoeveel is genoeg?' Jy kan teruggaan en nog R7-miljoen of R8-miljoen verdien, maar op die ou einde is jou gesin se belang ook daar.

Geld is nie alles nie en ek het besluit om op te hou en soveel as moontlik tyd met my gesin deur te bring," het Botha ernstig gesê.

Hy het sy liefde vir Suid-Afrika uitgespreek. "Ek was al oral in die wêreld. Rugby het my in staat gestel om wyd te reis, maar glo my vandag, daar is nie nog 'n land soos ons land nie," het Botha afgesluit.

Naka Bulle vereer sterre

Koos Venter

Die Naka Bulle-rugbyklub is op pad na sukses.

Dit was die duidelike boodskap verlede naweek by dié klub se jaareindfunksie.

Hoewel die klub se sukses in 2015 op papier nie te waffers lyk nie, sal vanjaar waarskynlik in die toekoms uitstaan as die jaar waarin die sluimerende reus van die Moot uiteindelik wakker geword het.

Teen hierdie tyd is dit ou nuus dat Naka Bulle se Carltonbeker-span op 'n tegniese punt uit vanjaar se halfeindronde gehou is. Dié optrede van die Blou Bulle rugby-unie het uitgeloopt op 'n hof-aksie van die klub.

Daar is intussen besluit om te fokus op die toekoms en dit lyk besonder rooskleurig vir Naka Bulle.

Behalwe vir die opwindende nuwe internasionale rugby-instituut, wat ook die klub se eie akademiese bestuur, het dit ook bekend geword dat nóg 'n paar top spelers besluit het om volgende jaar hul rugby in die Moot te kom speel.

Die goeie gees by Naka Bulle was duidelik by hul jaareindfunksie, wat op 'n wynlandgoed in Pretoria aangebied is. Verskeie uitblinkers van die klub is voor 'n vol saal gaste vereer.

Die klub se twee top-toekennings is opgegraap deur Anthony Beswick (speler van die jaar) en Jean Grobler (sportman van die jaar).

Naka Bulle se suksesvolle o.21 span, wat Tukkies vanjaar drie keer geklop het om as die Blou Bulle se o.21 kampioene gekroon te word, is aangewys as die span van die jaar.

Marinus van der Wath, Naka Bulle se nuwe direkteur van afrigting en ook hoof van die klub se nuwe internasionale rugby-instituut, het by die funksie gesê dat die klub volgende jaar hoë doelwitte vir homself gaan stel.

Hy sê die eerste span streef daarna om beide die Assupol reeks en die Carltonbeker-toernooi te wen, terwyl hulle ook wil kwalifiseer vir die Gemeenskapsbekerreeks.

Beswick het ook vir die Limpopo Blou Bulle in die Vodacom-bekerreeks uitgedraf en is 'n puik provinsiale sewesrugby-speler. Foto: Marinus van der Wath
