Thursdays at 7 pm

On the May 27 episode the story of LUPE, a New Jersey based Latin women's group that has gained national attention for their efforts to bring Latinas to top levels in the political arena is featured.

Assemblywomen Annette Quijano and Nellie Pou and State Senator M. Teresa Ruiz (D) discuss their rise to power as elected officials in the Garden State. Cid Wilson, National President of the Dominican American National Roundtable and one of the first appointments made by President Obama to a commission that will oversee the creation of the National Museum of the American Latino is interviewed.

The New Affluence

Money Help is on the Way

saturday, may 1 at 6 pm NJN1

As the nation slowly emerges from the recession it is becoming clear that new approaches to personal financial planning are essential. Host and renowned investment advisor, Jonathan Pond lays out a plan to achieve and maintain financial security under the new rules. The New Affluence will redefine what it means to be financially comfortable - and what is required to overcome inevitable future challenges, whether they arise personally or as a result of another economic tsunami.

With New Jersey facing a budget shortfall of over 10 billion dollars next year, Governor Chris Christie has been forced to make many controversial fiscal decisions. Aid to local municipalities, education, and public employee pension contributions have been hit the hardest. Join host Steve Aduato and Governor Christie for a one-hour, interactive program during which the Governor will respond to phone calls, e-mails and questions about a range of issues concerning the residents of New Jersey.

Arabian Horse: The Ancient Breed

wednesday, may 5 at 10 pm NJN1

Check NJN1 schedule for encores

Arabians are the oldest purebred horse in existence today, renowned for their versatility as show, endurance, work and family horses. Stunning footage of Arabians and historical narrative helps trace the roots of the breed from its origins on the deserts of Africa to its importation to the United States in the 20th century. Arabians are seen competing in some of the most prestigious equestrian events in the country, including an Arabian horse show in Louisville, Ky. and the grueling Tevis Cup competition in Nevada.

Living Courageously: The Spirit of Women

sunday, may 9 at 8 pm NJN1

This documentary celebrates the courage of women in times of crisis. Three American women whose lives have been transformed by challenging circumstances are profiled. Alison Levine overcame a life-threatening heart condition to become an international mountain climber; once involved with drugs and alcohol, Francine Ward's near fatal car accident transformed her life; and photographer Sheila Hagler, the first member of her family to graduate from college, now works with at-risk teens in a community devastated by Hurricane Katrina.

Rare Bird

sunday, may 10 at 10 pm NJN1

Rare Bird recounts the true story of 15-year-old David Wingate, who, in 1951, helped solve the mystery of the Cahow, a bird considered extinct for more than four centuries. Encroaching development, invasive species and toxic pesticides, in addition to its nocturnal habits and tendency to nest along inaccessible ocean-side cliffs, all conspired to shield the Cahow from human view, further cementing the belief that the species died out.

Fillmore: The Last Days

sunday, may 16 at 10 pm NJN1

The Fillmore West was an integral part of the West Coast music scene of the '60s and, now, an essential element of the mythology of rock 'n' roll. Rock impresario Bill Graham closed the Fillmore West in 1971 with five nights of all-star concerts. Graham featured bands - including the Grateful Dead and Santana - that rose to fame at the hall. The madness leading up to the shows and the concerts themselves were filmed for this behind-the-scenes look at a fascinating moment in rock history.

Dabbawallas

thursday, may 13 at 9 pm NJN1

This documentary explores a form of work that has existed in Bombay, India for more than 100 years. Each day 4,000 Dabbawallas (box persons) deliver 100,000 lunches at high levels of reliability. This delivery system functions without any of the trappings of modern day work. The program focuses on the reliance upon human and social ingenuity for organizing rather than relying on external mechanisms such as technology, and according respect for the seldom-heard voices of disadvantaged populations in India.

HOLLYWOOD MOVIE CLASSICS

My Man Godfrey

Friday, May 7 at 9 pm

William Powell stars as Godfrey Parke, the “lost man” hobo found by madcap heiress Irene Bullock (Carole Lombard in one of her wackiest and most memorable performances). Irene, the most eccentric member of an eccentric family, brings the man home to serve as the family butler. However, Godfrey has a secret – he is really a member of one of Boston’s wealthiest families. (1936)

McLintock

Friday, May 14 at 9 pm

G. W. McLintock (John Wayne), like the man who plays his character, is bigger than life. In this Western comedy with Taming of the Shrew overtones McLintock fights his wife, played by Maureen O'Hara, his daughter (Stephanie Powers), and corrupt government officials – taming them all! (1963)

Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon

Friday, May 21 at 9 pm

Sherlock Holmes (Basil Rathbone) is up against his toughest foe, Professor Moriarty (played to perfection by horror icon Lionel Atwill). Holmes is working for England in the war against Hitler and has successfully accomplished his mission of getting Dr. Franz Tobel into England. Tobel has ingeniously given four scientists, unknown to each other, key elements of a plan, which will only work if they are brought together. Moriarty, working for the Germans, has captured three of the scientists, and is in a race with Holmes to decipher a code of dancing men symbols which will reveal the identity of the fourth. (1943)

Nothing Sacred

Friday, May 28 at 9 pm

This classic screwball satire stars Carole Lombard as Hazel Flagg, the small-town girl who mistakenly believes she's dying of radium poisoning. Sensing a great human interest story that will tug at the public's heartstrings and help sell newspapers, exploitative journalist Wally Cook (Fredric March) brings Hazel to New York City and turns her into a media darling. But complications arise when Wally develops feelings for Hazel then discovers she isn't sick at all. (1937)

Picturing Mary

sunday, may 9 at 9 pm NJN1

The Virgin Mary has inspired some of the finest achievements in painting, architecture, poetry and music. Artists including Michelangelo, Rembrandt and Caravaggio portrayed Mary as the sublime embodiment of womanhood, endowing her with all of humanity's virtues, joys and sorrows. Narrated by actress Jane Seymour and featuring readings by actor James Keach, Picturing Mary journeys to museums, chapels and cathedrals in eight countries to view rare and sacred masterpieces in their original locations.

Jackie Gleason: Genius at Work

friday, may 14 at 8 pm NJN1

In the golden era of television, Jackie Gleason was king. Families gathered around the TV on Saturday evenings to see which of his characters would be entertaining them – the beloved playboy Reggie Van Gleason; Rudy the repairman; working-class dreamer Ralph Kramden; lovable Fenwick Babbit; or loudmouth Charlie Bratton. This special features a collection of Jackie Gleason's most memorable characters and skits from his long-running network television series and a special appearance by his wife, Marilyn Gleason.

True Whispers:

The Story of the Navajo Code Talker

sunday, may 30 at 8 pm NJN1

Exploring the personal and heartfelt story of the Navajo Code Talkers, this program tells the stories of the young Navajo men recruited from harsh government boarding schools into the Marines during World War II. From 1942-1945, the Code Talkers devised an unbreakable code in their native language and transmitted vital messages in the midst of combat against the Japanese.

War Bonds:

The Songs and Letters of WWII

sunday, may 30 at 9 pm NJN1

War Bonds: The Songs and Letters of World War II celebrates the sacrifices of the "greatest generation" by taking a sentimental journey through the days of blackouts, rationing and Rosie the Riveter. This multimedia, living-history cabaret weaves together the popular songs of the World War II era with humorous, poignant and often poetic letters from the frontlines and the homefront.

Reserved to Fight

sunday, may 30 at 10 pm NJN1

Reserved to Fight follows four Marines for three years after coming home from combat in Iraq as they struggle through social and psychological reintegration. Living among loved ones who don't yet understand them and suffering from a psychological disorder that is difficult to acknowledge, these veterans grapple to find purpose and healing.

Medal of Honor

monday, may 31 at 9 pm NJN1

This program profiles America's greatest heroes - recipients of our country's highest honor for military service. With a combination of clips, archival photography and interviews with, among others, 13 of the 102 still living recipients, the film tells not only the story of the three medals of honor (one for each branch of the armed services), and the many stories of its nearly 3500 recipients, but also reflects on the extraordinary feats that ordinary people perform in combat. The exploits of those who have received the honor posthumously in conflicts up to and including the Iraq war are included.

THE NJN FOUNDATION IS PROUD TO ANNOUNCE THE MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE 2010 NJN BENEFIT CELEBRATION!

The NJN Foundation is pleased to present an exciting musical program provided by Miche Braden and The Life and Blues Band for this year's entertainment at the 2010 NJN Benefit Celebration. Miche Braden – singer, actor, musician, songwriter, arranger, and musical director – will present her musical revue at the 2010 NJN Benefit Celebration that will be held at The Palace at Somerset Park on Thursday, June 3, from 5:30 pm to 9:30 pm.

Miche Braden received rave reviews recently for her one-woman show, "The Devil's Music: The Life and Blues of Bessie Smith," at the George Street Playhouse in New Brunswick, NJ and The Passages Theater in Trenton, NJ where she portrayed Bessie Smith. Ms. Braden has portrayed many other great divas of the 20th Century including Billie Holiday, Valaida Snow, Ma Rainey and Mahalia Jackson. She is artistic/musical director and founder of The Performance Art Chorale, and vice president, artist, and musical director of PMP RECORDS and ENTERPRISE which features her own CD, "Diva Out Of Bounds, Ms. MICHE." Ms. Miche is currently completing work on her "The Devil's Music" CD that will be released this summer.
