Toddler still in ICU after falling

“Reonetswe Sathekga fell more than three metres from the first floor of the Kolonnade shopping centre on Saturday after watching a movie with his parents.”

Ryno Ellis

A toddler who miraculously survived a fall from the first floor of a shopping centre in Montana over the weekend was still being treated in the intensive care unit ICU of a hospital on Tuesday.

The five-year-old boy, Reonetswe Sathekga, who remarkably didn't break any bones and only suffered swelling of the brain, had to undergo surgery on Monday evening. According to his father, Tshepo, the doctors placed a monitoring device on his brain to track how the swelling was reacting to medication. On Tuesday, Reonetswe was still under sedation to minimise movement to speed up the healing process.

The boy fell more than three metres from the first floor of the Kolonnade shopping centre on Saturday afternoon after watching a movie with his parents.

Reonetswe's father said it was a miracle that his third and youngest child was still alive. He said he had turned his head away for just a moment when his son fell.

Monique van Rensburg, spokesperson for the Kolonnade shopping centre, said video footage from the centre's security camera showed the boy playing near the escalator to the first floor. At some point, he grabbed the rubber railing of the escalator from the outside. He kept on clinging on as the stairs moved upwards. As he reached the top, the boy no longer had anything to hold on to and fell to the ground floor, Van Rensburg said.

He hit the ground with his head first.

Tshepo said he did not see how the accident happened. "After my son fell, I heard people screaming and saw he was gone. When I looked over the railing he was lying on the floor on his side and people were attending to him," he said.

He and his wife Emily rushed towards the boy and was relieved to hear him still breathing and crying.

Eyewitness, Zandri Janse van Rensburg, said she was close to the scene when the boy fell. When the boy hit his head on the floor, it made a loud thump that still haunts her.

"I also have a small child and this reminded me that you can never be too alert," Janse van Rensburg said. Reonetswe wanted to stand up after the accident but onlookers got him to lie down to avoid further injuries. He was rushed to the Montana Netcare hospital where he is being treated in the ICU. The father said his wife was spending as much time as possible at their son's bedside.

Monique van Rensburg said the centre management wished to advise parents to always make sure they know where their children were when shopping at Kolonnade.

"Centre management would like to remind our valuable customers that the Kolonnade is a big centre with an average of 900 000 visitors monthly. There are many places in the centre where children can hide and we therefore encourage parents and guardians to always keep a watchful eye on their children."

Ontvoerverdagtes glo vrygelaat

Ryno Ellis

Die pa van 'n tweeling wat vroeër vandeemaand amper ontvoer is, beweer twee van die vermeende ontvoerders is weer op vrye voet.

Dale Ribbink sê hy is deur 'n betroubare bron ingelig is dat dié twee, 'n man en vrou, wat in hegtenis geneem is vir diefstal en moontlik verbind kon word aan die poging tot ontvoering, onlangs weer vrygelaat is.

Sy aansprake kon nie dadelik by die polisie bevestig word nie.

Ribbink sê: "Ek wil net hê die skurke moet agter tralies wees maar al het ek al die werk vir die polisie gedoen, het hulle nog steeds die verdagtes vrygelaat."

Ribbink se vrou Zindie was op 7 Julie op soek na neussproei in 'n apteek Zambezi Junction toe twee vroue haar trollie met haar tweeling daarin uit die apteek gestoot het.

Zindie het hulle betyds gesien en kon hulle keer 'n Sekuriteitskamera het beeldmateriaal van die twee vroue wat daarna doodluiters wegstap en in a wit VW Polo klim waarin twee mans in die parkeergebied wag.

Die man en vrou is twee dae na die voorval by 'n winkel by Zambezi Junction in hegtenis geneem nadat hulle glo 'n vrou se handsak probeer steel het.

Die Ribbink gesin met die tweelingpaar wat in die begin van Julie amper deur twee vrouens ontvoer is.

Dale, wat die dag by die toneel was waar die twee verdagtes gearresteer is, het die vrou herken van 'n sekuriteitsvideo as een van die twee wat sy tweeling probeer ontvoer het.

Dale het gesê hy het hierdie inligting asook die kamera-opnames van die mislukte ontvoering aan die polisie oorhandig net om dae later te hoor dat die twee diefstalverdages na bewering deur die polisie vrygelaat is.

Sinoville-polisiewoordvoerder Mirna von Benecke kon Dinsdag nog nie bevestig of die twee verdagte dieve vrygelaat is.

Volgens haar is die ondersoekbeampte uitstede.

Von Benecke kon wel bevestig dat die saak van diefstal steeds deur die polisie ondersoek word.

Kolonel Noxolo Kweza, provinsiale polisiewoordvoerder, het vroeër aan Rekord gesê dat die polisie nie die diefstalverdages kan verbind aan die verdagtes wat gepoog het om die Ribbink-tweeling te ontvoer nie.

Kweza het bygevoeg in verband met die ontvoeringsaak is nog niemand in hegtenis geneem nie en dat die polisie tans nog besig is met ondersoek.

"Paramedics found a man in a critical condition following the shooting incident. The man was rushed to hospital but tragically lost his life due to the extensive injuries he sustained," Steinman said.

E-tolling: NPA waits for Sanral

“Our mandate is not to arrest people. It is not for us to bring non-paying motorists to court said NPA.”

Rorisang Kgosana

The National Prosecuting Authority (NPA) will not be arresting or prosecuting anyone with an outstanding e-toll bill, the NPA told Rekord.

This comes after the NPA announced that it had assigned two prosecutors to establish whether or not Gauteng motorists were breaking the law by not paying for the tolls.

“Our mandate is not to arrest people. It is not for us to bring non-paying motorists to court. Sanral has to prepare summons of arrest, and until then, we are not going to prosecute,” NPA spokesperson Nathi Mncube said.

Meanwhile, the Gauteng premier David Makhura and a panel of 15 are assessing the impact of the Gauteng Freeway Improvement Project on Gauteng motorists and the economy.

Transport Minister Dipuo Peters announced on Tuesday that various new discounts would be introduced to the e-tolling system. The discounts would be categorised into the following:

- The further extension of the payment period to avoid the Violations Processing Centre process that would negatively affect vehicle owners.

- Users would have an extended payment period of 51 days from the day they passed through a gantry.

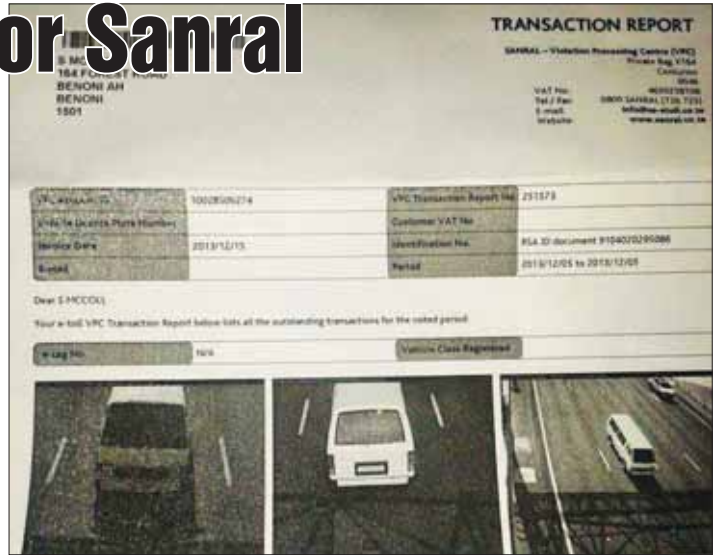

They will also receive the time-of-day discount.

- A non-registered user would receive 60% off the alternative tariff if they pay within 61 days.

- Registered users would receive 48% discount including time-of-day and frequent user discounts and the R450 calendar month cap for class A2/light vehicles.

Labour union Solidariteit said the transport department’s measures, however, had been in force since the inception of e-tolling in December. The four types of discounts had been in effect from the start of the e-tolling system and were not new.

“The minister moreover announced that unregistered road users will receive a 60% discount on the alternative tariff if they pay within 51 days. However, it is not clear from the minister’s speech whether or not this measure is actually a significant change. There is already effectively a grace period of at least 37 days that, in practice, can be even longer than 51 days due to the way in which the Violations Processing Centre processes e-toll accounts,” said spokesperson Cilleste van der Walt.

In addition, anti-tolling organisation, Opposition to Urban Tolling Alliance (Outa) felt that the announcement by the transport minister was only to entice road users to buy into e-tolling. “We believe that this announcement serves two purposes. One being another carrot to entice the public to buy-in to the ill-conceived scheme. Secondly, we believe the prosecuting authorities have noted an extreme difficulty exists in trying to achieve successful prosecution under the current regulations, terms and conditions,” said Outa chairperson Wayne Duvenage. He added that the minister’s announcement was evidence that the system was not working. “Sanral must provide the user with an invoice and payment is expected within seven days to qualify for certain benefits, yet how does one, especially businesses, pay within seven days without an invoice. The minister’s ‘reprieve’ is in fact further evidence that the system is fundamentally ill-conceived, unworkable and destined for the scrap heap of history,” said Duvenage.

R699 company orders clients to remove stickers

Thokozile Mnguni

The Satinsky Group that owns ‘Drive Car Sales for R699’ across the country has left its customers in shock with the following recent message: “Dear customer, kindly remove the R699 advertising from vehicle.”

According to reports by customers, all stickers should be removed by August. Some said they were not sure whether to do that or not, while others had started to remove the advertisements. Abby Behr told Rekord that she had removed the stickers after receiving the message citing she could not continue living a lie. “Even though I do not know what the next step is for us as customers, I had to remove the stickers because I could not continue advertising a lie,” said Behr. The Satinsky Group caused an uproar after failing to pay their clients a sum of R570 as per an agreement.

Recently the National Credit Regulator (NCR) issued a compliance notice against Satinsky 128 (Pty) Ltd, an entity involved in the so called ‘R699 vehicle scheme’ with the intention to combat predatory lending practices, including credit marketing practices.

Wat dryf jou?

Ek kry verlede week 'n lawwe 'onthou jy nog' e-pos oor baie, baie lank gelede se dinge. Foto's oor Liewe Heksie, Jan Spies in sy jong dae, Danie Gerber op pad doellyn toe... en melkbottels by die voordeur.

Skielik tref die verbysterende ontwikkeling van die afgelope eeu my weer.

Honderd jaar gelede was motorkarre uiters skaars en televisie nog nie eens in iemand se drome nie. Veertig jaar gelede het nie een van ons persoonlike rekenaars of selfone gehad nie... en kan jy glo dat ons tien jaar gelede nog nie Facebook, YouTube of Twitter geken het nie...

Het jy ook al gewonder wat hierdie vooruitgang dryf? Robert Heinlein, skrywer van wetenskaplike sê: Progress isn't made by early risers. It's made by lazy men trying to find easier ways to do something.

Lees die wonderlike motivering van Efesiërs 3:17 dat Christus deur die geloof in julle harte sal woon en dat julle in die liefde gewortel en gegroëndes sal wees. As ek en jy oor alles in ons lewe kan sê: Ek is só omdat Jesus van my besit geneem het.

Die onlangse ANC-uitlating dat die media gereguleer en joernaliste op 'n rol geplaas moet word, het hewige en onthutse reaksie by persbase ontlok. Met reg ook, want in die mediageskiedenis van Suid-Afrika van 1795 is daar talle voorbeelde waar die regering die pers wou muilband, onder sensuur wou plaas of mediahuise se deure wou sluit. In die sewentigerjare wou dr. Connie Mulder joernaliste reguleer en registreer en in die tagtigjare is 'n soortgelyke poging deur die PW Botha-bewind van stapel gestuur.

Mediahuise het uit eie geleedere twee jaar gelede 'n persvryheidskommissie onder regter Prus Langa aangestel wat verhore landwyd aangehoor het. Die persombudsman is daargestel om dispute oor beriggewing te besleg.

In die regering se voortvarendheid word die media se werklike rol as waghond van die gemeenskap geïgnoreer. Toe die ANC nog 'n verbode organisasie was en veral die Engelse media sterk krities was oor apartheid en eintlik die ANC se saak bevorder het, was die ANC tjoepstil.

Noudat die ANC aan bewind is en die skoen aan die ander voet is, word ten hemele geskree indien die pers waarsku oor die gevolge van regeringbesluite. Feit is, gegee die diversiteit van ons samelewing daar sal altyd spanning tussen die regering en die media sal wees.

Met die ontplofing van nuusverspreiding oor die internet, Facebook, WhatsApp en getwiet, het verantwoordelikheid as een van die hoekstene van joernalistiek verkrummel. Oornag het 'n nuwe geslag van ongeskoolde joernaliste ontstaan en daar word misbruik van die die konsep van vryheid van spraak, gemaak.

'n Voorbeeld hiervan is die vooruitlopende beriggewing met die Oscar Pistorius-hofspraak wat in dieselfde hofgeding sy draai in die hof gemaak en deur die regter gekritiseer is. So ook die onlangse Australiese beeldmateriaal wat die hofspraak ook ten onregte kan beïnvloed.

In die lig hiervan is daar 'n saak uit te

Klippe langs die pad

maak vir 'n onafhanklike professionele media-liggaam waaraan gekrediteerde joernaliste moet aan behoort. Die wenslikheid is dat diegene wat op so 'n rol is, akademies gekwalifiseerde joernaliste moet wees wat 'n artikelskap by erkende mediahuise deurgemaak het en naas sy skryfbedreweheid, bewys moet kan lewer dat hy ten volle vertrouwd is met al die wette wat sy beriggewing op een of ander wyse rig of verbied.

Die verskil is dat so 'n liggaam tot stand moet kom sonder enige regeringsinspraak of inmenging. Waar vir profesies statutêre liggema bestaan, gee dit die beroep 'n sekere status wat die koring van die kaf skei.

'n Mens sou kan aanvoer dat so 'n nie-regering geïnisieerde rol vir joernaliste bestaan, die gehalte van joernaliste, die geloofwaardigheid of gesaghebbendheid en hul werk strate beter sou wees as wat dit tans is. Onregstreeks sal hierdeur ook die eise van die gemeenskap wat hulle bedien groter gewig dra.

Die enigste probleem is dat sulke statutêre liggema wat afdwingbare magte het slegs tot stand kan kom deur wetgewing – iets wat dadelik die deur vir regering-inmenging open.

'n Mens sou wou sien dat so 'n liggaam saamgestel word deur die insprake van die onderskeie mediahuise. Laat die mediahuise, nie die regering nie, toe om al die bepalinge, verordeninge en beperkings te formuleer en die wetgewer dit sonder inmenging net bekragtig.

Well-known dog foods found to be contaminated

Amelia de Ridder

Several dog food brands have recently been pulled from shelves in Pretoria after they were found to be contaminated with a maize toxin that could induce vomiting and weight loss in animals.

The manufacturer of these brands, Foodcorp, said almost 70% of affected batches had been removed. Another 30 000 bags of dog food were still to be recalled from stores in South Africa.

Foodcorp spokesperson Stephen Heath said products such as Bobtail, Dogmor, Bonzo and certain Dealer Own Brands manufactured between 4 and 23 June showed slightly higher than normal levels of deoxynivalenol (DON), also known as vomitoxin, when the finished products were tested. DON is one of several mycotoxins produced by a certain fungus.

"Current research has indicated that the prolonged exposure to high levels of DON in an animal's diet will only influence the palatability and therefore the intake of food which can result in low weight gain of the animal. In some instances, animals exposed to food with high levels of DON can experience vomiting," he said.

"The intake of DON is not fatal to the animal and in most instances dogs will pick up the smell and not consume the food."

Tshwane SPCA spokesperson Korkie Levanon urged the public to take their pets to the vet immediately if they noticed any change in their eating behaviour.

"If you notice your dog is off-colour or has stopped eating, it is a clear indication that something could be wrong and the animal might need medical attention." Heath said the Foodcorp products affected would only be back on the shelf once the problem had been fixed. Foodcorp can be reached for enquiries at 011-549-1030 or enquiries@foodcorp.co.za.

No need to panic over swine flu: an expert says

Amelia de Ridder

There is no need to panic about reports of swine flu in Pretoria, the National Institute of Communicable Diseases (NICD) said this week.

It said this year's flu season was well under way with a normal increase in influenza (a virus responsible for an infection commonly referred to as flu).

The season began in May and could be expected to end by August. Professor Lucille Blumberg of the NICD said the institute monitored the country for annual circulating strains of the flu virus – and found this year's season is dominated by Influenza A(H1N1)pdm09.

"When this strain first appeared five years ago it was responsible for the global flu pandemic, commonly referred to as 'swine flu'. In subsequent years, this strain has become part of the annual influenza season with symptoms and risk of complications similar to the other seasonal influenza strains, and requiring the same management."

Blumberg, however, warned that the public should not become too complacent as there were individuals with underlying conditions who risked developing severe flu, notably pneumonia.

Children (younger than two years), adults over the age of 65, pregnant women, morbidly obese people, or those with existing chronic diseases (heart, lung, kidney or endocrine) could become severely ill and could even die.

On its website, the NICD said the signs and symptoms of flu include high fever, dry cough, sore throat, headache, fatigue, cold shivers and hot sweats and generalised muscle pain. In most cases of influenza, including influenza A(H1N1)pdm09, the cause is uncomplicated and symptoms usually resolve spontaneously within three to seven days although cough and malaise could persist beyond this period. It advises such patients to get bed rest, and increase intake of clear fluids to prevent dehydration.

Helpless dog abandoned

Ryno Ellis

A helpless mixed breed dog was apparently thrown from a vehicle and abandoned in a local park on Sunday.

Brenda Martens, a volunteer for the Wollies animal project in the north of Pretoria, has taken the bright eyed furry friend into her care until she can find adoptive parents for her. She has named the lovable dog Shandy.

Shandy was apparently thrown out of Martens said the dog was bewildered and unsure of her new surroundings and was struggling to eat or sleep.

"She is lovable but very unsure of everything," Martens explained.

Martens said Shandy was spaded on Monday and she was hoping to find a loving home for her as soon as possible.

"I cannot take Shandy to a shelter because it will be too stressful for her."

To contact Martens send an e-mail to: wollies911@gmail.com

Shandy who was recently abandoned.

A woman is searching for a loving home for a dog who was recently abandoned in a park.

a woman's car on Sunday afternoon in a park close to Kilnerpark and left without a home.

According to an eyewitness, who wants to remain anonymous, the woman stopped next to an open field and threw the young dog over the wooden fence.

The woman said the dog tried to jump back into the vehicle but the woman would not let her and shut the door.

"I confronted the woman and she claimed to not be the owner of the dog. She said the dog had been following her and she cannot keep her, because of her living arrangements," the eyewitness said.

The woman then apparently drove away leaving the dog helplessly.

"I think it is inhumane to just leave a dog like that. I could not leave her and took her home and immediately phoned the Wollies animal project who gave me Brenda's number."

Body builders gather

Thokoze Mnguni

About a 100 people participated in the national fitness event, the International Federation of Body Builders (IFBB) Him and Her, on Saturday at Victory Life Christian Church in Montana.

Ryan Henrico, a Cipla Nutrition ambassador, who participated in the category Senior Men up to 90kg, said he won the IFBB SA National Championships in 2012 and according to him, following a strict eating programme really helps.

"I follow a diet that consists of egg whites, green vegetables and lean meat. When I'm training and on the run and can't get access to a meal, I have three scoops of Cipla Nutrition hundred percent whey protein, with a spoonful of peanut butter."

He said this kind of event was held every year and it is growing.

He encouraged people to join either as participants or spectators.

He further gave some tips about the importance of preparing well when participating in such events.

"Diet is important and training with experienced personal trainers is imperative."

Samantha van Niekerk, Netinie Kloppers and Cari Barnado.

Military members get their hands dirty

René Roux

Members of SA Army Signal Formation Headquarters came together on Friday morning to clean up Doornpoort Primary School to celebrate Nelson Mandela Day. The Wonderboom military unit did not stop there. It also played its part to improve the quality of the children's lives while at school.

Doornpoort Primary School consists of 35 staff members and 650 pupils between the ages of five and 14. The pupils come from middle to low-income households.

The school has large grounds with few sporting and recreational facilities for the pupils.

SA Signal Formation sought to make amends in this regard by marking out soccer field lines and donating sporting equipment to the school.

With industrious hands, the Wonderboom military members picked up trash and papers – and did some light gardening.

They also donated clothing and shoes to the school.

Lieutenant Colonel Ida Gillbert.

Cansa hosts unique drive

René Roux

With a wicked new hairstyle, a yummy in their tummy and a smile on their dial, enthusiasts celebrated Nelson Mandela's legacy by supporting the fight against cancer on 18 and 19 July.

They spent their 67 minutes at the Tshwane China Shopping Mall in Zambesi by enjoying a breakfast, cutting, shaving and colour-spraying their hair with all contributions going to Cansa Gauteng North.

A Cansa Exhibition formed part of the Cansa Drive at the Mall and the men got peace of mind by getting their prostate glands screened for cancer by a registered nurse for only R50.

Cansa's purpose is to lead the fight against cancer in South Africa by offering a unique, integrated service to the public which involves holistic cancer care and support to all people affected by cancer.

Rentekoersstyging bring wending in mark

Die onlangse styging in rentekoerse vroeër vanjaar het 'n wending gebring in die huismark in Sinoville en die gebied noord van Pretoria. Die aantal dringende verkope het gestyg namate huiseienaars planne moes maak om af te skaal.

"Dit was veral merkbaar in die R1,5 miljoen en goedkoop kategorie waar talle eienaars weens stygende koste bekommerd is dat hulle nie maandelikse verbandbetalings sal kan bybring nie sou rentekoerse verder styg," het dr. Willie Marais, eienaar van die agenskap Harcourts Maxima, gesê.

Huise met 'n waarde van minder as R1m verkoop nou teen 'n afslag van tussen 5% en 7%, wat vinniger transaksies in die hand werk, terwyl huise met 'n waarde van meer as R1m teen 8% tot 10% minder as mark-waarde verkoop word.

Terselfdertyd is daar redelike sterk vraag na eiendom bo die R1,5m vlak, maar ironies genoeg ervaar ons nou voorraadtekorte in dié kategorie. Verkope onder druk het die vraag na huureenhede dramaties verhoog omdat huisverkopers na alternatiewe verblyf moet soek, het Marais gesê.

Die vraag word verder verhoog deur 'n stroom huurders uit ander dele van Pretoria. Huurgeld noord van die Magaliesberg is heelwat laer as in byvoorbeeld Pretoria se oostelike voorstede en verbruikers onder geldelike druk migreer noord om op verblyf-koste te spaar, selfs al moet hulle 'n bietjie verder na werkplekke pendel. "Eenhede met twee slaapkamers in Sinoville en omliggende voorstede is beskikbaar teen 'n huur van tussen R4 000 tot R5 500 per maand en eenhede met drie slaapkamers tussen R6 000 en R7 500. Gesinhuise word verhuur teen tussen R7 000 en R12 000 per maand, afhange van die grootte en ligging. Die vraag na huureenhede op landbouhoeves in die gebied is ook lewendig.

Kleinhoeves kan steeds teen R10 000 tot R12 000 per maand gehuur word en daar is ook tweede huise of kothuise op talle hoeves wat teen tussen R3 000 en R4 500 per maand verhuur word," het Marais gesê. "Kleinhoeves op die oemblik in die mark bied uitstekende waarde.

Dit word al moeiliker om finansiering vir kleinhoeves en onontwikkelde grond te bekom.

NOTICE

Capital Media (Pty) Ltd renders a service to our clients to advertise their products and services. However, we cannot be held accountable for any misleading claims or damages that result from the use of said advertised products and services.

Readers should therefore be cautious in responding to any advertisements, in particular financial and business related opportunities, unless a thorough investigation has been conducted into the business practices of the advertiser concerned.

Rekord experiences many problems with clients requesting us to comply within any possible way, to give preference to their advertisements versus that of other clients. This leads to advertisements starting with A1, Attention, or 000. It makes no sense to the reader and prevents them from making logical conclusions as to what the content of the advertisements is about. It spoils the presentation of our classified advertisements and also confuses the reader, who wants to see at a glance what an advertisement is about and make a decision regarding his needs. We believe that our capable representatives can help with good advice in presenting your advertisement with original and fresh ideas.

They support brand

Mrs United Nations South Africa is a national competition that gives married women a platform to make a difference in their communities, charities and families. Its founder, together with four Mrs UN Alumni, have come on board this year as Spar Women's Challenge brand ambassadors as a way of showing South African women that if you believe in change, anything can happen. We caught up with some of these phenomenal ladies to dig deeper into their reasons for supporting the race.

Zanti Swanepoel is the director of Mrs United Nations Africa and, in addition to coming on board as an ambassador herself, she provided the link between Spar and the Mrs UN representatives who also came on board to support this year's race. She believes that events such as this have the power to create tangible change. "Mrs UN stands for the empowering of women to make a difference in this country. We cannot wait for anyone else to do that and so we as women take the responsibility to make a difference and I believe that if you change a woman, you change a family. And if you change a family, you change a community - and if you change a community, you can change a nation," said Zantie.

Martha Nkele 'Soso' Thamae is a loving wife, mother of three, an entrepreneur, breast cancer survivor and a national finalist for Mrs United Nations South Africa 2013/2014. She is extensively involved in charitable community work, but is especially committed to her work with the Breast Health Foundation after the overwhelming support she received from them when diagnosed with breast cancer in 2012 - the foundation is playing a major part in the Spar Women's Challenge focus for this year. "Since my diagnosis and by taking part in Mrs UN I gave realised that we as women play a very important role in society, therefore we should be embraced and celebrated and by this event, I feel inspired. For this, I applaud Spar for empowering the nation with the Spar Women's Challenge, because in doing so they are empowering women," said Soso, as she chats about what the race represents to the women of South Africa.

Londiwe Moyane is a 2013 Mrs UN finalist and founder of Smiles, her project in Pretoria. She also founded Mpuma Jobz, a Facebook page and community initiative that she started single-handedly and without outside financial assistance. "I'm doing it out of love for the people of South Africa," she said, before adding that this would be her first Spar Women's Challenge race and that she is looking forward to running side by side with the ladies she is representing as a brand ambassador.

Zwartkop hosts amateurs

Zwartkop Country Club, with its longstanding tradition of hosting the world's golfing legends, set the perfect backdrop last week for the Gauteng regional elimination in the country's premier amateur golfing tournament, the World Golfers Championships.

This year, the tournament celebrates its 20th Anniversary of World Finals, making it extra special for Team South Africa to hold on to the title after winning the championships for the first time last year.

With this in mind, the dream of making the team was fiercely contested by local amateur golfers and by some who had travelled from as far afield as KwaZulu-Natal.

Their determination was evident from tee-off to the final putt as they played their way through the fairways, bunkers and greens with the hope of clinching a top-three winning score within their flight. After the scores were tallied, only 15 dreams of making the cut could be realised as the Gauteng regional winners were announced by PGA Master Professional, Dale Hayes. He is also the technical director for the regional eliminations and the Master of Ceremonies for the regionals, national final and World Golfers Championships.

Craig Clay-Smith, spokesperson for World Golf Events South Africa, local organisers of the event, said the elimination marked the second event in a series of four South African regional elimination's being played in three provinces – Gauteng, KwaZulu-Natal and the Western Cape.

"Similarly, countries all over the world are following the same elimination process to select their national team for the 20th commemorative World Final. As the host country, we will be entering two teams, which means that ten amateur golfers will have the opportunity of realising their dream to compete in an international championship and possibly win a world golfing title and trophy."

Any amateur golfer over the age of 16 who holds an official handicap can still enter the second Gauteng regional elimination at Houghton Golf Club on 16 August. To win an all-expense paid trip to the National Final, golfers must finish in the top three of their flighting (0-5, 6-10, 11-15, 16-20, 21-25).

Those finishing in the top two of their flighting at the National Final, qualify for Team SA and win an all expense paid trip to the World Final, from 1 to 8 November in KwaZulu-Natal.

Run at Zwartkop and train for the women's race

All athletes who are busy training for the SPAR Women's Race are invited to enter this year's Zwartkop annual road race on July 26.

The Zwartkop race is the ideal race to train for the race. Like the Spar event, it has a fast and flat route.

The race, which is in its seventh year, is organised by the Reformed Church of Zwartkop under the auspices of Alpha Centurion Runners and Walkers.

The venue is once again the Zwartkop Lapa in Wierda Road (R55), Centurion. (GPS coordinates: 25 50°14.25'S 28 07°28.46' E). The number of athletes competing in this race has grown from just 400 in seven years to 2 500 in 2013.

This year the organisers expect close to 3 000 runners. Both the 21km run/walk and the 10km run/walk will start at 07:00 and the 5km fun run at 07:10. All unregistered athletes competing in the 21.1/10km will need to purchase a temporary licence.

Pre-entries can be done on www.entry-time.com or at the well-known sportshops in Pretoria and Centurion such as Running Inn, Run-a-Way Sport, The Sweat Shop (Southdowns) and The Sportsman's Warehouse Centurion.

Late entries will be taken at the venue on Friday, 25 July between 14:00 to 18:00 and on race day from 05:30.

Plenty to eat and drink will be on sale. Athletes are encouraged to come early, although there is ample safe parking space, the access routes are constricted.

There will be an extra temporary entrance for parking on race day for athletes from Sandton and Pretoria West.

Enquiries: Phone Alet on 082-786-3013.

Bulletjies eindig met oorwinning

Koos Venter

Ná hul naelskraapse nederlaag teen die Oostelike Provinsie (OP), het die Blou Bulle se o.18 Cravenweekspan goed herstel en die res van die week onoorwonne afgesluit.

In hul eerste wedstryd is die jong Bulletjies die loef afgesteek deur die OP. Die seuns uit die Oos-Kaap het in die laaste minuut van die wedstryd 'n drie in die hoekie gedruk. Hul ster-losskakel, Curwin Bosch, het verdoel om die OP met 26-25 te laat wen.

Die OP-span het hierna ook met die Vrystaat afgereken (19-5), wat aan hulle 'n plek in die nie-amptelike eindstryd van die Cravenweek besorg het teen een van die ander spanne wat vriend en vyand verras het, Suidwestelike Distrikte (SWD).

Die jong Bulletjies het in hul tweede wedstryd met hul bure van oorkant die Jukskei-rivier, die Goue Leeus, afgereken deur hulle met 21-10 te klop. Dit het aan die Bulletjies die eer gegee om op die laaste dag in die hoof-voorwedstryd op die A-veld te speel. In hierdie laaste wedstryd was hulle verwoestend en het die jong Sharks (KwaZulu-Natal) met 36-15 verniel. In die proses het die Bulletjies vyf drieë teen hul teenstander se twee gedruk.

Hoewel die Bulletjies as 'n span baie goed gespeel het, was daar tog enkele spelers wat uitgestaan het. Ruan de Beer, sterk vleuel van Menlopark, was een van die beste vleuels op die toernooi, terwyl die losskakel, Tinus de Beer, en Waterkloof soos verwag, ook sy merk gemaak het. De Beer was tweede op die lys van top puntemakers op die toernooi, slegs een punt agter Markus Coetzer van die Luiperds.

Jan-Henning Campher van Garsfontein, wat haker en kaptein van die Bulletjies was, het ook indruk gemaak, veral met sy leierskap.

Verskeie van die Bulletjies is kandidate om vanjaar die SA Skolespan te haal.

Die Blou Bulle se Cravenweekspan het op dag een net-net teen die uiteindelige kampioene, die OP verloor. Hier is een van die Bulletjies se uitblinkers, linkervleuel Ruan de Beer, in aksie in dié wedstryd.

French sevens tour SA

The national French u.20 Women's sevens rugby team toured in South Africa recently and were hosted by the Bulls Rugby Union. Two mini-tournaments were organised in which several teams of Pretoria played with the French. Tuks, the Bulls' development team and the team of Correctional Services were all involved. The French team has impressed with the standard of their game and at both tournaments they beat their local rivals quite easily.
