Black Easter for raped mum

The perpetrator shoved the handle of a kitchen knife into the woman's genital

A 38-year-old, church-going mother in Phoenix is battling to come to terms with her heinous ordeal after she was allegedly brutally raped and assaulted in the late hours of Easter Sunday by an unknown intruder in her home.

The brave mother of one shared her traumatic ordeal with the Phoenix Sun Newspaper, adamant that she wanted her attacker arrested and brought to book for the horrific crime that was committed against her.

"I can still picture him," the victim said, recalling her night of terror in Palmview at the hands of the Phoenix brute.

The shaken woman told journalists how she had just finished filming the Easter celebrations at her church and had returned home to the out-building that she rented in Fan Palm, with her daughter, when the incident occurred.

"We had come home and my daughter had gone to bed as it was very late. She was fast asleep and I was sorting out a few things around the house. I went to hang up something on the washing line and as I was coming back inside, I noticed that there was some dirt on the floor. I bent down to pick it up and that was when a man grabbed me from behind," she said.

The traumatised victim described her attacker as a well dressed man of medium complexion, who spoke fluent English and was physically strong.

A knife similar to the one that was used in the brutal rape of the Palmview mother. File photo

"He dragged me back into the kitchen and demanded the valuables from the house. He asked for cash and jewellery. I told him I had nothing. He then assaulted me and told me that he would go to the bedroom and kill my daughter if I did not give him anything or if I made a sound. Ensuring my daughter's safety was my only priority at that point and so I offered him the camera equipment that I had been using to film the festivities at the church earlier," she said.

The victim's attacker is believed to have accepted the offering but still dragged her back into the kitchen, toying with the idea of raping her. The man then allegedly undressed her and harnessed her into a compromising position. The victim claimed that the perpetrator tied her up with an old cloth, securing it around her neck, almost as though he had been ready to strangle her. The man then allegedly retrieved a kitchen knife from her draining board, and using the handle, he penetrated her forcefully with the cold hard object. With the blade facing out, the man is said to have brutalised the mother by vigorously shoving the knife handle into her genital, injuring her severely. She claimed that after he was done, he then released her and fled on foot, leaving behind his loot. The shattered victim allegedly contacted her landlords, who set off the alarm system and contacted the police. She was rushed to hospital where she was treated for her injuries and kept under observation before she was discharged.

Meanwhile, the community of Phoenix is seething with fury following the harrowing ordeal. They are furious when they learnt of the pain and torture that the mother had to endure during one of the most holy holidays on the Christian calendar.

It was an explosion of colours at this year's Festival of Chariots, which saw thousands of people in attendance. ISKCON devotees and members of the public made their way to Marine Parade on Friday for the colourful float procession that took place. Those who attended were dressed in their traditional Eastern wear and certainly had a memorable time. The procession ended at the old Durban Drive-in. The Festival of Chariots event continued over the long weekend.

Thousands of people attended the annual Festival of Chariots which was held over the Easter weekend.

Pulsating drum beats echoed through the streets of Durban at the Festival of Chariots.

Former Woodview resident found dead in Free State

Mystery surrounds the death of a former Woodview resident whose body was found in QwaQwa near Drakensberg last week, after he was reported missing two weeks earlier. Thirty-three-year-old Vinesh Rajoo (pictured) was reported missing by his family on March 19, after he was last seen in Centurion, driving his Corsa bakkie around midday. The Rajoo family fretted for Vinesh as he was an epileptic sufferer who needed to take his pills on a daily basis. Flyers and messages reporting Vinesh missing went viral, as a search for him ensued. Two weeks passed before Vinesh's body was eventually found in the Free

Vinesh Rajoo.

State on Tuesday, next to a dam in Harrismith.

Police spokesman for the Free State's SAPS, Sergeant Mmako Mophiring, confirmed that the body found at the damn was in fact Rajoo's and was positively identified by the family. "He was found around 5pm on Tuesday. No injuries were on him and no foul play is suspected," Sgt Mophiring said. Vinesh's Corsa bakkie was also found abandoned in Sterkfontein.

The Rajoo family refused to divulge any information regarding Vinesh's lifestyle, with some saying they were in the dark about the on-goings around the circumstances both before and after his death.

Alleged drug runner arrested

A brazen suspect hailing from Chatsworth was arrested in Mount Edgecombe over the weekend, after he was allegedly found peddling drugs to locals in Phoenix, by local security company, KZN VIP. The suspect was immediately placed under arrest and taken to the SAPS, where he was charged accordingly. Seen is the arrested suspect.

Paramedics and reaction officers work furiously to aid the trapped victim.

Pensioner's coffee mug assault on Good Friday

A pensioner was allegedly severely assaulted during an armed robbery at her home in South Gate on Good Friday. According to reports, the elderly woman had just exited her house to dispose of household garbage when she was approached by two unknown men who accosted her in her own yard. The men allegedly demanded to be shown where the valuables in the house had been kept, but when she did not comply, the men apparently dragged her by her hair back into the house. Whilst inside the elderly woman's house, the men are believed to have ransacked the rooms and retrieved whatever valuables the pensioner had stowed away while threatening and viciously assaulting her. They allegedly ransacked the house and enquired of the woman for more valuables. When she was unable to produce more, they proceeded to assault her with the butt of the gun and allegedly broke a coffee mug on her head. They thereafter fled the scene on foot.

The SAPS and security company,

KZN VIP, arrived on the scene to assist the woman. Spokesman for KZN VIP, Gareth Naidoo, said that the woman had been severely injured and was receiving treatment for the ordeal she had endured. "The men had arrived on foot, jumped the fence, robbed her and fled on foot. They had taken mostly cash and jewellery, leaving behind major appliances. They managed to get away but we have a description of them and investigations are continuing," he said.

Entrapped woman swiftly rescued

A woman was swiftly rescued after she was trapped in a taxi near the Palmview robots, recently. It is believed that the taxi collided with an Audi on the R102 north bound before the Palmview robots. Members of local security company, Reaction Unit South Africa (RUSA) and paramedics were dispatched to the scene and upon arrival found that a front seat passenger was stuck in the taxi. RUSA head, Prem Balram said, "Reaction officers and paramedics managed to free the woman's legs which were trapped and remove her from the vehicle. She sustained moderate injuries and was stabilised on scene before being transported to hospital. Several other passengers in the taxi sustained minor injuries and were also transported to hospital." Balram added that according to witnesses the Audi attempted to switch lanes resulting in the taxi smashing into the back of the vehicle.

More than 20 people were injured in an accident in Unit 9.

A taxi driver was killed on the N2 after the vehicle he was driving in was ripped in two when he collided with a bridge.

Another two-car pile-up was also reported on the Phoenix Highway, opposite the robots by Trade Centre. Three people were critically injured. The driver had been entrapped and had to be cut free.

City creates buzz for Commonwealth Games 2022

The city of Durban was a hub of activity over the weekend, as the municipality conducted the 2022 Commonwealth Games activation. Places to be over the weekend was the beachfront, Growthpoint Stadium and People's Park where Durbanites were given a chance to learn more about Durban's bid to host the 2022 Commonwealth Games. The City came alive with festivities as promoters, including face painters and puppets, visited various places around the City to promote the bid and educate members of the community about what hosting the games will mean for the City. Fun activities included sandcastle building, face painting and lots of giveaways.

Easter weekend road carnage

Residents said that more needed to be done to force motorists to be more responsible on the roads.

Emergency services were on high alert during the Easter weekend, with the accident tally reaching epic heights over the festive period, resulting in a large number of deaths on South African roads. In Phoenix alone, more than 15 accidents were recorded from the start of the long weekend on Thursday night to the end on Monday evening. Police and emergency services were constantly on call throughout the long weekend, attending to the injured and dealing with fatalities. The weekend death toll in Phoenix kicked off with an accident on the N2, south bound, just before Inanda Road, when a taxi collided with the bridge. The taxi was ripped into two pieces. The driver sustained fatal injuries. He was declared dead on the scene. The weekend ended with an accident at the robots in Unit 9, where a taxi also lost control and veered off the road. More than 20 people were injured, five seriously so. One of the passengers sustained serious injuries, whereby his eyes had been gorged out of its sockets. Locals thronged to the accident scenes to bear witness to the aftermath of the accidents. Residents said that more needed to be done to force motorists to be more responsible on the roads. Several other accidents were recorded, with motorists and passengers sustaining serious injuries and keeping emergency personnel, paramedics and police busy for the duration of the long weekend.

Medical train leaves residents on track with health care

The community of Phoenix were treated to a successful health care campaign this past week, when the Primary Health Care Train stopped off at the Phoenix Train station. The varied services on the train attracted many people during its time there, before it departed on April 2. The campaign at Phoenix station was aimed at raising awareness on health care, cancer and diabetes. There was also an eye clinic and dental clinic. The health care team also offered free counselling sessions.

Patients leave the Health Train delighted with the prompt medical services that they received.

Phoenix suspect arrested for national crime spree

A suspect believed to have been involved in a number of criminal activities within the Phoenix precinct was arrested by police after a shootout near Modderfontein, last week. The suspect is also believed to be linked to the killings of two police officers in the area. He was arrested after police embarked on a massive manhunt for the killers of the two officers, who were shot and killed during a shootout. Police managed to finally outsmart him in Kranskop, and executed the arrest during a raid. He was thereby found in possession of an illegal firearm. The firearm's serial number was found to have matched that of a firearm that was stolen in the Phoenix area, during an armed robbery that was executed in 2012. The suspect had been arrested before, for robbery and attempted murder in Sun City in 2009. He was charged and released on bail.

All roads lead to Mount Edgecombe Temple

Mount Edgcombe was a hub of religious activity over the weekend as various creeds took time out of their busy schedules during the year to offer prayer and worship to their deities. During Easter time, the Hindu community hosts its annual Amman Prayer festival at the Mount Edgcombe temple. Scores of devotees from across the KZN province come to the temple to offer their prayers. Seen are councillors, Solly Singh and Patrick Pillay together with a local resident on the temple grounds.

Ecclessia Ministry feeds the indigent this Easter

A local church ministry did their bit this Easter in giving back to the community by running a feeding scheme during the weekend. Ecclessia Ministry Church prepared over seven degs of food which it pre-packed and distributed to the indigent in the Phoenix community. The charitable event took place at the Hopeville School premises on Spine Road. The ministry also provided entertainment for the children, party packs and toys much to the delight of the little ones who attended. The ministry thanked everyone who helped during the initiative.

Become the next Barbie or Ken

A splash of color not here or there, but this time everywhere. Your pink dress and your black suit sets the statement, your beautiful skin resonates the sun, and your well-groomed hair and cherry shaded cheeks compliments your well defined eye-shadow with a sparkle and flick. Piercing eyes oozing through the air, with your blood red lips in a moment of sparkle and flair. If you feel you are the next diva, the next big thing, the next Barbie or the next Ken, then this is just for you. World Class Events, for the first time in South Africa presents 'Barbie' and 'Ken.' Auditions are opened for finalists in the new Little Miss Barbie 2015 (ages three to 12) and Little Mr Ken 2015 (ages three to 12). It is a multiracial and multicultural production. Email your full contact details, physical address and a picture of yourself, your son, daughter or your niece to worldclassevents1@gmail.com. # Jailoshini Naidoo stars in 'Funniest Moments - The Best of Ronnie Govender'

Presented and performed by stage and TV personality, Jailoshini Naidoo, Funniest Moments, a special tribute to Durban's legendary playwright Ronnie Govender, will be staged at Sibaya Casino's iZulu Theatre from April 16 to 19, 2015. Two lifetime achievements awards: declared a Living Legend by KZN's Premier's office, an Honorary Doctorate from DUT, the list of awards for Ronnie Govender goes on, marking a lifetime of splendid achievements, notable among which is his highly-entertaining and thought-provoking body of plays. Who can forget SA's longest running play,

'The Lahnee's Pleasure', or celebrated Govender titles such as 'At The Edge', '1949', 'Off-Side!', 'In-Side!', 'Beyond Calvary' and 'Swami among' others? These works offer hilarity at its highest, and baths at its most moving. In honour of the recent 80th birthday of this giant of the theatre, award-winning actress, Jailoshini Naidoo, formidable in her own right as an artist, has put together 'Funniest Moments', a thoroughly entertaining pastiche of memorable excerpts from Ronnie Govender's outstanding plays. This theatrical treat presented by Durban's actress par excellence, stars Jailoshini in what promises to be a roller-coaster ride of superb entertainment. The much-loved star will be supported by two other luminaries of the stage, the brilliant singer/muso, Ramesh Hassen, and well known actor, Henry Ramkisson (of The Dingalings fame), who has established himself as an outstanding comic. The stunning Jailoshini said, "Last year, Ronnie Govender turned 80. The thought that went through my mind was that this was a milestone in the brilliant career of a writer and director, who has been widely honoured over the years. The unswerving, often lone struggle by this stalwart to establish non-racial theatre and his eventual list of outstanding productions is well known. Yet while the country aptly celebrated the 80th birthday of another luminary, Athol Fugard, we neglected to do so with our own multi award-winning playwright. This is what motivated me, with Govender's permission, to put this production together." Having worked under Govender often, Jailoshini is well acquainted with his several box office hits. "While it was a labour of love, I must confess that selecting excerpts from all these wonderful plays for 'Funniest Moments' was a nightmare - simply because I had a hard time deciding what to leave out," she added. The production promises a wealth of hilarious and moving moments selected from over 16 plays written and directed by Govender over a span of 35 years. Performances of Funniest Moments are at: 8pm on Thursday 16 April and Friday 17 April; at 8.30pm on Saturday 18 April; and at 3pm and 6pm on Sunday 19 April. Tickets are available at Computicket outlets at Shoprite Checkers, or by phone at 0861 915 8000 or online at www.computicket.com. Early booking is advised to avoid disappointment.

The beautiful and funny Jailoshini Naidoo.

The Chester Missing Roadshow

Chester Missing, South Africa's most famous, contentious political puppet from eTV's Late Night News with Loyiso Gola, has embarked on a blazing national roadshow and will be at the iZulu Theatre, Sibaya Casino, accompanied by his annoying ventriloquist Conrad Koch, and his puppet sidekicks Hilary the outrageous diva Ostrich and Ronnie the lunatic green monster on April 10 and 11, 2015.

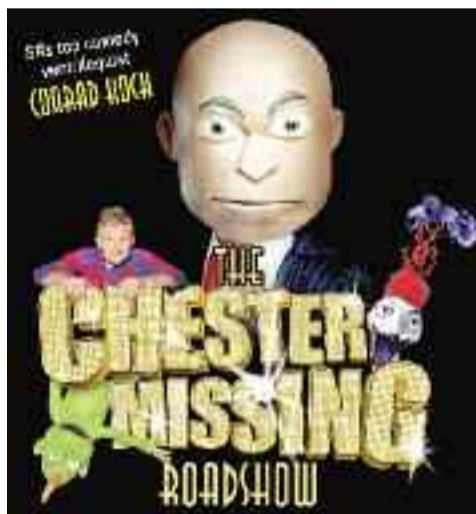

As a political analyst come weekly columnist for award winning news site ZA News - Mr Chester Missing has broken new ground with his outrageous, hard-hitting, funny and frank interviews with South Africa's political elite. The interviewees including Gwede Mantashe, Zwelinzima Vavi, Helen Zille, Mosiuoa Lekota, Blade Nzimande, Patricia De Lille, Bantu Holomisa and others.

It is an unprecedented world-wide that a puppet like Chester Missing is able to talk so frankly and directly with the ruling party and oppositions alike.

Armed with a Master's degree in Social Anthropology, Conrad Koch is recognised as SA's top ventriloquist, unique at combining cultural insights with hilarious commentary and puppetry. He is constantly exploring new directions in the ventriloquist art form where the drama of politics lends itself to satire and the theatre stage.

The Chester Missing Roadshow is directed by award-winning Heinrich Reisenhofer and produced by Podium - The Comedy Merchants. It promises to be a riot of world-class ventriloquism, crazy characters, cutting-edge political commentary and hysterically funny situations. Make your bookings today. Shows start at 8pm. To book your ticket, call Computicket on 0861-

915-8000 or visit www.computicket.com. Tickets are available at Shoprite Checkers outlets. A lucky reader will also be able to win a set of double tickets to this exciting show. All they have to do is answer the following question, "Where will the show take place?" The competition will take place on Wednesday, April 8, 2015 at 12am. Callers will be required to call 031 507-7761 to stand a chance to win. Unfortunately, since there is only a set of double tickets being given away, the line will only be opened for 15 seconds. No calls will be taken before or after the stipulated time. Once the winner has been chosen, no further disputes will be entered into.

Letters to the Editor

phoenixsun@dbn.caxton.co.za

Teacher's killing should be a 'wake-up call'

I would like to send a special 'thank you' to the Phoenix Sun for giving us, the community, up to date news on crime in the North Coast area that affects all of us as law abiding citizens. Reading the story about the murder of the Phoenix teacher last week, has left me outraged and ashamed. The murder of Rathilal Sooklall by merciless criminals leaves me with one thought, we are definitely living in an abnormal society. I say this over and over, crime needs to be urgently addressed by the government and it seems they are failing its people. It is time that a delegation comprising of Patrick Pillay, George Mari, businessman, Soan Seebran and other dignitaries to meet the Premier and discuss the drug problem and the high rate of crime. As citizens, we are becoming afraid. We are now facing the consequences of crime, which is here to stay and it continues to worsen, whilst the government struggles from one crisis to another. I will be wasting my breath if I say bring back the death penalty. As long as the ANC is in power they will not even entertain the idea. The time has come to debate on what other form of punishment can be introduced to the legal system. We need to explore options to strengthen legislation. Urgent action must be taken or anarchy will set in.

Mother of autistic child must be commended

I must commend the mother of the autistic child who is working so hard to raise awareness on the plight of similar families. We often take for granted the extra effort these parents need to make when they have been chosen by God to be guardians and caregivers to children like that. One can tell that the said mother's journey in life has not been an easy one and there are times when all one wants to do is break down and throw in the towel. I'm sure she has had a few moments like this. But it is encouraging to see her soldiering on and making a difference in this particular individual's life - and others for that matter - as she goes along. To her, I want to say, 'keep going, dear.' Your reward is awaiting you in our eternal home, where every effort you have made has not gone unnoticed.

A GOLD CIRCLE HORSE RACING EVENT

A local family from Lenham Drive embarked on a mission to do their bit of good this Easter by providing a sumptuous meal to the community of Swanvale, last week. Both pupils and teachers at Swanvale Primary School were treated to the meal by the Moodley family, which was a generous helping of breyani, dhall and soji. The Moodley family would like to thank the principal and staff for allowing them to reach out to the pupils. The family especially extend their grateful thanks to Shamilla from Swanvale Primary. The Moodley family have affirmed that they will continue in their endeavours to reach out to the Phoenix community. They send out a hearty thanks to all those who helped with the food distribution.

New Ford Focus

The real deal

By Gavin Foster

When Ford dropped their popular Escort and Laser nameplates in 1998 and named their new compact car the Focus they must have worried about the risk involved, but their fears were allayed when the car was voted European Car of the Year in 1999. Sales took off worldwide and in 2012 the Focus nameplate overtook the Toyota Corolla as the automotive world's best-selling nameplate, with 1,5 million of the cars being produced annually.

A new Focus rolls off the production line every 90 seconds, and total sales now exceed 12 million globally, more than half of them in Europe.

The new Ford Focus launched in the Eastern Cape last month uses the same body shell as the third generation model that went into production in 2011, but the car has undergone so many changes that Ford is justified in marketing it as a new car.

The old 1.6 and 2.0-litre naturally-aspirated four-cylinder petrol engines have been replaced by three-cylinder 1.0 and four-cylinder 1.5-litre turbo units that produce similar power but considerably more torque than the engines they replace, and at lower revolutions. They're also markedly better in terms of fuel economy and emission levels.

The styling has significantly changed, with various new panels, new grilles and lights, and various other changes being made to freshen the car's external appearance. The interior has also been completely revamped, and the work has paid off because the layout and build quality are both very impressive.

For those who like electronic gizmos and gadgets there's also plenty to brighten up their days in the Focus. All models are comprehensively specced with the usual comfort and driver aids, but various option packs add the sort of features the German luxury manufacturers have been wowing us with for a couple of years, at considerably lower cost.

The most impressive of these is the Trend Driver Assistance Pack with Active Park Assist that allows you to sit back while the car parks itself, Lane Departure Warning, Lane-Keeping Aid and Active City Stop. This last involves a LIDAR sensor in the windscreen that scans an area 7,6m ahead for obstacles, and intervenes at low speeds by pre-loading the brakes or even applying them and letting off the throttle automatically when it detects a pending collision with a stationary or slower moving vehicle. While this does not usually prevent the accident from happening, it reduces the impact speed considerably.

Other components of the Trend Driver Assistance Pack include Adaptive Cruise Control that enables the car to automatically keep a set distance behind the vehicle in front, and Active Brake Control for speeds of up to 180 km/h that helps reduce impact in high-speed collision situations. The whole package costs just under R12,000 and is in my opinion well worth it.

At the Eastern Cape launch I didn't experience the joys of trying to set up a collision or let the car park itself, but I did get to drive the 1.0 and 1.5-litre five-door hatches fairly briskly for an hour or so each on some lovely winding roads. The Focus has always been a competent handler, and the latest incarnation continues the tradition. The chassis has been slightly stiffened, suspension bushes have been revamped and the dampers have been upgraded to keep things even more tidy.

The Focus feels more sure-footed than most, and noise, vibration and harshness are negligible. The six speed manual gearboxes are crisp and sweet, and the engines are both very, very likeable because of all that torque.

So what's to like about the engines? Is Ford trying to get boys to do the work of men? Not at all.

The award-winning 1.0 EcoBoost three-cylinder delivers 92kW at 6,000rpm and 170Nm of torque from 1,400rpm all the way to 4,500, compared with the old 1.6-litre's 92kW at 6,000 and 159Nm that only arrived at 4,000rpm, while the 1.5 turbo motor is good for 132kW at 6,000rpm and 240Nm between 1,600 and 5,000rpm, where the old two-litre's figures were 125kW at 6,600 and 202Nm at 4,450rpm. That means the new turbo motors offer more sheer grunt than did the old, at just about any revolutions.

On the road, where all this counts, the engines perform superbly. The Focus is a fairly sizeable car carrying a fair bit of weight, but that matters not one jot with forced induction in the small engines. The claimed 0-100 times of 11.1 and 8.1 seconds and top speeds of 192 and 222km/h respectively are better than those of the outgoing models, but in the real world the real enjoyment comes in the vast midrange torque.

The new Ford Focus is available in four-door and five-door hatch guises. There are two body styles, two equipment levels and two engines, both with manual six-speed transmissions. Automatic versions will be available later this year, and pricing ranges from R212,900 to R284,900.

It's a winner.

Bike guru shares wisdom in new book

By Gavin Foster

So who really needs to know the difference between a crankshaft and a camshaft? Power and torque?

Understanding Motorcycles sells for R199 and is available through various motorcycle outlets throughout KZN, or you can order it online from Dave's website www.understandingmotorcycles.com/ For further info contact Dave Harris on 082 7127745

The best time is now.

Get the new C-Class AVANTGARDE with Automatic Transmission from only R5 555 p/m***.

It's no coincidence that the new C-Class is as light and dynamic as its Agility Finance offer. It comes with smaller payments over a shorter period of time, a guaranteed future value and no balloon payments. But perhaps its most appealing feature is that you can drive one from just R5 555 p/m*. Book a test drive at www.mercedes-benz.co.za/c-class or contact the dealer below.

IT'S ONLY BABA JAMEEL WHO CAN MAKE YOU WIN MONEY GAMES
 I am Mandy in KZN. 082 924 9084. I thought it was a lie when a friend told me that she managed to buy a new car and house through Great Jameel
 After playing some money games in Durban by using magic stick and she won millions, I was shocked to see her driving a Range Rover that's when she advised me to buy the newspaper and see what Great Jameel did to the Naidoo family that uses anointed oil, they also won a big contract as mineral suppliers to Europe, yet their son Ashley uses magic wallet to get money while the daughter gets cash in her account through short boys and they deposit US Dollars as she is in America. I never wasted time I bought the newspaper and got Baba Jameel's number, I spoke to him and on the consultation I chose rats that bring money in my house and today I am also a millionaire. My advise to you all who have different types of problems, like, love to bring back lost lover, finance, bad luck, enlargements and many more.

Bhanu Haripersad, Mavis Naidu and Swami Nrsimha urge the community to support their venture.

Mrs India SA finalist joins 'Zero to Hero' project

Rebuilding the spirit of people who are victims of violence is the driving force behind the project 'Zero to Hero' which is to be launched at the Illemb Auditorium in Stanger on April 12. Non-profit organisation, the Sri Vaikuntha Ksetram (SVK), is officially launching the project and skills development programme that is set to inspire, empower and change the mindsets of victims through positive solutions. "The programme will institute a paradigm shift in their thinking empowering the participants through multiple skills, a healing programme, education, and reintroducing them into mainstream economy," said president of SVK, Bhanu Haripersad.

She added that when dealing with victims, they need to identify the cause of the problem and not just deal with the symptoms. "We need to shift their thinking and make them aware of their rights and let them know that there is a way out," Haripersad said.

Throwing her weight behind this venture and joining forces with Haripersad, who is the ambassador to Nasa, is Mrs India SA finalist, Mavis Naidu and , who is on a mission to create awareness of non-violence in the community. The ambassador of goodwill will be working in conjunction with her mentor Haripersad and the spiritual head of SVK, his Holiness, Swami Nrsimha, to establish multi-cultural/purpose centres, safe houses, 24 hour crisisline and an old age home across KZN as well as provide counselling and educational programmes to integrate victims back into society.

Haripersad said that the work is all being done from a spiritual point of view.

Naidu, who has been a victim of domestic violence for 18 years, said the issue of abuse is very close to her heart. "Society does not take abuse seriously and the justice system has failed many victims. I want to use this platform to start making a real difference in people's lives around the world. The greatest crown to wear is to be a humanitarian," she said.

The SVK is involved in various programmes such as regular feeding programmes and Christmas parties for the elderly or less fortunate.

The launch will see dignitaries in attendance, exciting dance and musical performances, and speeches by various speakers. Funds raised from the event will towards establishing the centre. The trio appeal to the community to open their hearts and donate towards this venture that takes people from 'Zero to Hero.' If you wish to contribute, you can make donations to: Acc Holder - Sri Vaikuntha Ksetram (SVK), Bank - FNB, Branch - Umgeni Junction, Acc No - 62419913513. For further information, call Swami Nrsimha on 076-999-4944 or Mrs Bhanu Haripersad on 072-246-0086.

IFFSKSA hosts Regional Development Tournament

The International Federation of Funakoshi Shotokan Karate South Africa hosted its 25th annual regional development tournament at the Redfern Community Hall, Phoenix recently. The event attracted karate-kas from the organisation's clubs in the North Coast area. The IFFSKSA has a rich history being in its 31st year of existence and is growing in numbers with affiliates throughout South Africa.

The president and chief instructor of IFFSKSA, Kyoshi Eric Govender (7th Dan), was especially pleased at how well the event was supported by parents. The tournament aimed at developing young talent and exposing the organisation's karate-kas to competing in a full tournament where World Karate Federation rules apply. However, the organisation's KZN and Protea karate-kas also participated and amazed the crowd with their skill and expertise in both kata and kumite. Apart from the winners receiving gold, silver or bronze medals, every participant received a medal. The highlights of the day were provided by the senior male black belt division where the capacity crowd was treated to a thrill a minute action. Sandesh Ramsaroop was victorious in the males' kata while Ashlyn Pillay won the kumite gold. The next major event in the organisation's calendar is the All Style Friendship

Karate Championship at the UKZN Old Mutual Sports Centre on May 9, 2015. For further details, contact

Kyoshi Eric Govender on 083-777-0727 or Niren Naidoo at nirenn@telkomsa.net
